FINAL SCORE.

Chicago, 18; Wisconsin, 12.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 21.—Chicago and Wisconsin, the only unbeaten football teams in the west, will play the biggest game in the west this afternoon. The game will decide the western championship. The town is wild with excitement, and a big bunch of Maroon rooters are on hand.

Both teams are confident. Staggs declares he has new plays which he thinks, coupled with team work, will make his team an easy victor. Wisconsin is also confident, declaring the team in good condition. Betting is slow, Wisconsin asking 2 to 1, and Chicago offering 5 to 4.

The line-up:

Wisconsin. Position. Chicago.
Down R. E. Page
Halfback R. T. Kelley
Quarterback R. G. Hirsch
Fullback C. Badenoch
Running back L. G. Ehrhorn
Tackle L. T. Hoffman
Guard L. E. Schommer
Center Q. B. Steffen
End R. H. Crowley
Linebacker L. H. Iddings
Wide F. B. Worthine
Officials: Referee—Kelley, Princeton.
Umpire—Everetts, Wrenna, Harvard.
Field Judge—Poe, Princeton.
Head linesman—Flaeger, Northwestern.

Great Weather.

The biggest day in years of university of Wisconsin football history dawned bright and clear today, and this afternoon the mightiest of football struggles is on. Fully 10,000 people filled every available seat and all the standing room on the stands, bleachers and unused turf at Camp Randall to witness the game between the Wisconsin and University of Chicago eleven for the championship of the middle west.

The old capital city presents a riot of color. Pennants and streamers—the cardinal predominating—are everywhere, and the decorations, as well as the spirit of ninety-nine one-hundredths of the people partake of football.

It is conservatively estimated that Chicago and Milwaukee sent 500 people each to see the game and there are those who put Milwaukee's quota much higher. Other larger cities of the west are well represented, while there is hardly a Wisconsin student which has not sent an alumnus to see the great game.

A Startling Score.

Chicago won the toss. Steinhm kicked off to Steffen, who caught the ball on the 10 yard line, and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. It was the most spectacular bit of play field running ever seen on Randall field. Schommer kicked goal. Score: Chicago, 6; Wisconsin, 0.

Wisconsin Ties Score.

Steffen kicked off and the ball was carried to Chicago's 45 yard line. Steffen punted. Wisconsin could not make gains through Chicago and punted. The ball seemed about the center of the field, Chicago finally getting to Wisconsin's 40 yard line, where Steffen's run and hard line plunges brought the leather to the 25 yard line. Wisconsin held. Moll punted and the Maroons again began their march down the field. When they got to the 30 yard line they tried a place kick, but failed, and Steinhm punted out of danger. A punting contest followed. The Badgers got the ball on Chicago's 40 yard line. Boyle carried the ball over, but the officials refused to allow the play. On the next play Steinhm carried the ball across for a touchdown and the goal was kicked. Score, 6 to 6.

Chicago Scores Again.

After the kick off in an exchange of punts the Badgers forced the ball to the Chicago 15 yard line, where

PLANS TO RELIEVE JUDGE J. J. FRUIT

MAY GIVE COUNTY COURT CRIMINAL JURISDICTION

TO CUT OFF ONE COUNTY

Reduction of Circuit Is Talked But Lawyers Here Oppose It as Limiting Field

Discussion of the project to divide the judicial circuit, owing to over-work piling up on Judge Fruit, has been constant among lawyers for some time. The idea of a division has been unpopular, owing to the fact that this would mean the loss of a large amount of legal business by the La Crosse lawyers. The old idea of reducing the work by the creation of a municipal court of criminal jurisdiction is not growing in popularity, owing to the county expense involved, and the fear that such salary as could be paid, would be insufficient to secure the services of a competent judge.

Two Plans Discussed.

At present two plans are being considered: one is to cut one county off the circuit, but lawyers here do not relish even this reduction in their logical field of patronage; the other plan is to give the county court criminal jurisdiction, and to equip it with a court reporter and other essentials, making a commensurate increase in the judge's salary. This latter plan seems to find most favor.

A Lawyer's Comment.

A prominent attorney today gave The Tribune the following interview relative to the subject: "A considerable discussion is heard among the attorneys in relation to the division of the circuit, and the opinion seems to be among them that it would not be wise to divide the circuit. If two circuits were created as proposed there would be a smaller number of people in each circuit than are generally found in circuits in this state.

"It is the general opinion that the work of the circuit is, however, too heavy, and that some relief should be had for Judge Fruit of the circuit court. It has been suggested that Trempealeau county or Juneau county be set off into another circuit, and in addition that a municipal court be established, having criminal jurisdiction. Some objections have been made that a separate municipal court would be an expense to the county, and therefore undesirable.

Use County Court.

"Another plan has been thought of and talked over among the attorneys, and that is to give to the county court power to try all criminal cases, in addition to the criminal jurisdiction it now has, and thus relieve the circuit court of a month or six weeks work during the course of the year.

Would Need Stenographer.

"Under the law as it now stands, the county judge is not provided with a reporter, and is compelled to do the clerical work of the criminal court himself. The suggestion is to make the clerk of the circuit court, the clerk of the criminal branch of the county court in all criminal matters. The clerk of the circuit court is now paid by the county for this criminal work, and the expense would be the same as it now is. If the county court had this jurisdiction, it would be necessary to provide an official reporter for that court. This would relieve the county judge from taking evidence in long-hand in the criminal cases, as he is now compelled to do. The law at present provides that in contested probate matters the judge shall call on a stenographer at the expense of the county. An official stenographer would of course do this work also. If the county judge were relieved of the burden in criminal cases of taking evidence in long-hand, and of the clerical work, he would have sufficient time to try out cases with juries, without doubt.

Expense Not Great.

"The only expense incurred is of course a fair addition to the salary of the county judge, and the cost of an official stenographer. This would amount to less than the mere salary of a municipal judge, if such a court were established, and then in addition the expenses of all the court machinery for such municipal court including a stenographer.

Small Jury Expense.

"It is believed that the plan of giving the county judge this additional

In a letter received by The Tribune today "Pink" Hawley announces that he has closed with Oshkosh for 1903 at a salary of $3,000 for the season. He adds that Mr. Elliott has wired him to close the deal, a fact indicating still more plainly that the former president does not consider that La Crosse has any strings on Mr. Hawley. The letter in part follows:

"Beaver Dam, Wis., Nov. 19, '03.

"Editor Tribune:

"Oshkosh has offered me a better thing than I could get in the American association, or from any other club in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, and I will close with them, and by the time you receive this letter it will be all over. I will manage the Oshkosh club for the season of 1903. I sent John Elliott a telegram yesterday and in the telegram I said this:

"Terms with Oshkosh satisfactory to me, shall I close with them?"

"I received a telegram from Mr. Elliott, and this is what he said:

"Close with Oshkosh."

"So you see Elliott does not regard me as belonging to La Crosse. Mr. Elliott is in Pittsburgh, Pa., and left with Mrs. Elliott for New York last night. They will remain in New York a few days and then go to Buffalo, where they will visit my wife and her family. Mr. Elliott will return soon and Mrs. Elliott will return to La Crosse with my wife later.

"La Crosse can't have me for bargain counter purposes, but if La Crosse wants to give me $3,500 for the 1903 season and buy my release from Oshkosh, all well and good. I am going to Oshkosh next week and talk over the coming season, and who will be our team for 1903.

"With best wishes,

RUSSIA BUYS THE WRIGHT AEROPLANE

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—The announcement that Russia's rights to use the Wright aeroplane have been purchased by the Russian war office, is expected, following the conference next Tuesday between Duke Nokolavitch, head of the engineering corps, and C. P. Vincent, representative of Hart O. Berg, the European manager of the Wright brothers.

EXPENSES WERE SMALL.

Oliver Needham, prohibitionist, spent just $4.00 in his efforts to be the next county clerk. E. C. Sherman spent nothing in his run for register of deeds.

Proprietor's Son Attempted Murder
Recently—Hangout of the Yeggmen

After holding for years the title of being one of the toughest places in the vicinity of Winona, the Old Stone House, made famous through the many murderous brawls that have ensued in its vicinity and as the scene of numerous holdups, bids fair to lose its license and pass into history.

Some of the citizens of the district on the Wisconsin side of the river have started a movement to have Empeke's (the proprietor) license revoked and it will probably be done at the next meeting of the county board there.

One of the most recent depredations that has occurred in the vicinity of the Old Stone House happened recently when one of the Ehmkos boys knocked a farmer senseless as he was crossing the bridge and after relieving him of his pocketbook, containing $500, attempted to throw him over the bridge and into the river. The farmer revived, however, and after a desperate fight with the young ruffian succeeded in escaping.

Young Ehmkos was later sentenced to serve 5 years in the Minnesota penitentiary for the crime. It is also known to the authorities as the hangout of desperate characters of all descriptions, among them being yeggmen, holdup men and others equally dangerous.

MURDER NEW CHARGE AGAINST OIL TRUST

WINNIPEG, Nov. 21.—Startling disclosures were made in the investigation of the oil explosions resulting in the deaths of fourteen persons throughout Manitoba. In every case the oil was purchased from the Winnipeg Oil company, composed of American and independent companies, a rival of Standard. The company charges that gasoline was mixed with oil in one ship. Some competitors are working on the case, endeavoring to find out where and how the oil shipment was tampered with. Heavy damage suits are threatened by the relatives of the victims.

MORAN'S BROTHER CONFIRMS STORY

SAYS NEWPORT SMART SET RUINED PASTOR'S LIFE

WAS BOOZE AND SOCIETY

Fate of Minister Arrested Here and Now in Mendota Discussed by Barre Mills Brother

In an interview today Mr. Henry Moran, of Barre Mills, confirms the story that alcohol caused the downfall of his brother, Rev. E. W. Moran, now an inmate of the Mendota asylum.

Rev. Moran was once pastor of one of America's most fashionable churches, St. John's Episcopal at Newport, and numbered among his parishioners the Goulds, the Vanderbilts and other millionaires. The Mendota physicians say he lost his mind because of constant attendance of fashionable social functions at Newport and the excessive use of alcoholic drinks.

It Was Whisky

"Alcohol did cause my brother's downfall," said Henry Moran. "He was educated at the De Sota seminary and was called to Newport as rector of St. John's Episcopal church soon after his graduation. While there he was closely associated with the Vanderbilts, Goulds and other wealthy people. Everything was bright for him, but in the most promising period in his career the drink habit seized him and he soon became a wreck. He drifted from bad to worst and since leaving Newport has filled various pulpits but he never lost his appetite for liquor."

Smart Set Fixed Him

The drinking habit, according to Moran's statement when committed, was acquired by him while as a direct result association with Newport's smart set. He was protegee of Mrs. Astor. Well liked, he was always invited to the highest social functions and acquired an appetite for liquor, his mind became unbalanced and he is now a physical and mental wreck.

The Rev. Mr. Moran was forced to resign his pastorate at Newport, and drifted from bad to worse, sometimes filling pulpits at various places about the country, but never losing his appetite for alcohol. Remembering his brother at Barre Mills, he drifted there last spring, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

The allegation was made that he negotiated a loan of $10 from a member of the Christ Episcopal church here, claiming that he had been called to La Crosse to fill the pulpit made vacant by the Rev. C. N. Moller. The matter was adjusted and he was released.

Newport Is Horrified.

The following dispatch from Newport to a Chicago paper tells of the high esteem in which he was held by the wealthy and influential members of his congregation there: "The fashionable set and many

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—When the report of Treasurer Sheldon is filed with the state auditor at Albany, it will be found that the republican campaign had a fund of $1,700,000, to which Chas. P. Taft, the largest contributor, gave $160,000. The statement will be completely detailed and will include the report of F. W. Upham, assistant treasurer, who had charge of the west. Upham's report will be filed with Sheldon's in New York. It shows that he collected nearly $500,000 of the total. The fund is smaller than usual. Four years ago they had $4,000,000, and eight years ago $7,000,000, exclusive of the amounts sent by the state organizations. The report this year includes such state contributions.

Roosevelt contributed $1,000, Carnegie, Morgan, Whitelaw Reid and Wm. N. Cromwell gave $25,000 each. Adolphus Busch, R. C. Kerns and W. C. Dickey, of St. Louis, gave $5,000 each.

Outside of these large sums, most of the fund was made up of small contributions, approximately 20,000 people having contributed. The report shows the support of the campaign did not come from the railroads or the banks, but from commercial interests.

GREEK GENTLEMAN POISONS FRIENDS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—Following the death today of Forte Sotar, a Greek aged 30, and the discovery that John Sotar, his cousin, and Theo. Peto, are dying, and two other Greeks are ill, the police today instituted a hunt for a well dressed, Americanized Greek, giving the name of Ilo, accused by the victims of administering knockout drops to the entire party last night. They alleged he fled from their home, where he had been taken in for the night, with $227. The illness of all of them followed their drinking of beer in their rooms with the stranger, whom they declare promised to secure them good jobs.

THE CZAR WALKS TO ALEXIS' FUNERAL

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—The czar today, behind a double file of troops and watched by secret police, made the first public appearance afoot in the streets of the capital since his coronation. The occasion was the funeral of Grand Duke Alexis. The czar was in full naval uniform and as an admiral in the navy walked immediately behind the casket, apparently indifferent to danger. Prior to the procession, every house along the route was searched.

LEARNS OATHS TO PLEASE WIFE

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—To please his wife, who, he says, had expressed admiration of men who swore, Robert E. Moloney, a lawyer, tried to learn to swear after his marriage. But the best success he ever had was an occasional awkwardly spoken "d—n" and "h—l."

He told about it on the witness stand in his suit for divorce. The lawyer asked Moloney if his profanity had not made Mrs. Moloney a nervous wreck.

"On the other hand," he replied, "I swore in order to make her happy. Before we were married we used to know a lawyer—he's dead now—who was a hard swearer. She admired that man. He used to walk up and down his office swearing all the time, and my wife said she liked that kind of a man. It took a real man to swear that way, she said. There was no doubt about the quality of the lawyer's oaths."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Enthusiastic crowds gathered to see the Yale-Harvard annual gridiron struggle today. Yale has lots of fighting spirit, and many individual stars. The Crimson relies on the perfection of their team work and the machine-like qualities of a team coached to the minute. Ed Coy, full back, is the great reliance of Yale. Coy, who defeated Princeton practically by his own strength, is expected to plow big holes through the Harvard line. Harvard is confident that their team work will outdo any individual effort. Coy is playing. Harvard won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. At 2:05 Andrus kicked to Corbett, who ran back 15 yards to the Harvard 20 yard line.

Fight Hard in Midfield.

When the ball was put in play after the first down, Cutler punted to Coy in midfield. Coy went through Fish for 5 yards, and then smashed through McKay for 7 yards. On the next play Coy made 3 yards through McKay. Wheaton hit the Harvard right end for 5 yards, and Coy smashed through McKay for 6 yards. Attempted end runs, on side kicks, and line rushes, both

WESTERN ELEVEN FIGHT FOR TITLE

CHICAGO AND WISCONSIN LINE-UP AGAINST EACH OTHER

TEAMS ARE EVENLY MATCHED

Badgers Depend on Keckie Moll, While Maroons Look to Steffen to Win Battle

Today the gridiron season of 1908 practically closes. The western championship is being decided on Camp Randall this afternoon between the hosts of Chicago and Wisconsin. They both have a clean record this season. As yet no defeat has marred their records. Chicago has been tied once but not by a western team.

Wisconsin has gone through the entire season with colors flying, and for the first time for a number of years, have they had a hand in the final struggle for the championship. It is hoped by the followers of the cardinal that they will once more get back in the division that plays to the finish every season.

The last game that Wisconsin played with Chicago was a memorable one. It went down in the history as one of the greatest games that was ever played in the old style of football. In that game, as today, the Chicago defense was centered around one man, Eckersall, the greatest quarterback that ever called a signal, according to some of the greatest authorities. He was the man that proved the undoing of the Badgers for, after a number of trials, he sent the pigskin spinning through the air between the goal posts, making the only score of the game.

Today Walter Steffen, Stagg's great protegee, although not as great as the wonderful Hyde park player, is of sufficient caliber to be feared by any opposing team that the Maroons may meet.

Victory May Rest With Moll

Wisconsin on the other hand has no great aggregation of players as they had on the memorable October afternoon three years ago. But they have got a man who greatly resembles Eckersall, and upon whom they say, the result of the contest may rest, Keckie Moll, the doughty little quarterback, who has shown through his previous record this season that he is nearly as great a kicker as Eckersall was and who may, with his speed and dexterity counterbalance the work of Steffen.

Naturally since the championship is being decided in Madison, there is no other game which attracts as great attention. At Minneapolis, Minnesota is having its annual contest with the Carlisle Indians; at Urbana the Purple squad of Northwestern is struggling with the Illinois. Away out at Syracuse far from the sturdy cheers of the Michigan followers the Maize and the Blue are struggling forlornly but desperately with the Easterners. Aside from a few games of minor importance the season closes at sunset this afternoon.

LA CROSSE DEFEATS BARABOO'S TEAM

LOCAL TEAM RUNS UP 15 POINTS FRIDAY

FAST TEAM WORK WINS GAME

La Crosse Team, With Snappy Work, Rushes Baraboo Organization Back and Forth at Will

The La Crosse High School football team was victorious over the Baraboo High school Friday afternoon by a score of 15 to 0. The work of the local team was very erratic and this accounts for the small score. Three times the ball was within one yard of Baraboo's goal line where it was lost each time. Twice the oval was lost on downs and the other instance a fumble by Ray gave Baraboo the ball where it was immediately punted out of bounds. The local boys were treated very cordially by the Baraboo players and all enjoyed it very much.

The Game in Detail.

Baraboo won the toss. La Crosse kicked to Baraboo's r. h. who returned 5 yards. Baraboo's left half failed to gain around Roddy. Baraboo failed to gain through center. They then punted again after two downs had netted them nothing. Baraboo's end fell on the ball. It was now Baraboo's ball on the thirty yard line. A good kick was attempted but Dickens broke through and blocked it. La Crosse secured the ball, Brindley having fallen on it. On two end runs Dickens netted 18 yards. Tourtellotte broke through center for 30 yards. On a straight buck by Dickens and a center plunge by W. Tourtellotte La Crosse gained their yards. Grimes circled r. e. for seven yards. Tourtellotte then carried the ball over for the first touch down after four minutes of play. Capt. Tourtellotte failed to kick goal. Score, La Crosse 5, Baraboo 0.

La Crosse Scores Again.

W. Tourtellotte kicked to Baraboo's full who was downed in his tracks. After Baraboo had failed to gain on two downs they punted to Dickens. On a forward pass La Crosse netted ten yards. Dickens lost two on an end run but on a forward pass, Dickens to N. Tourtellotte fifteen yards were gained. Grimes took four on a cross buck. Tourtellotte added five more through center. F. Tourtellotte again smashed center for five yards. Tourtellotte then went over for the second touchdown. Capt. Tourtellotte failed at goal. Score, La Crosse 10, Baraboo 0.

Dickens Makes Touchdown.

Baraboo kicked to Shlachach who returned ten yards. La Crosse was penalized fifteen yards for an illegal forward pass. It was now La Crosse's ball on their eight yard line. Holbrook punted and N. Tourtellotte fell on the ball. Tourtellotte smashed center for eight yards. Baraboo obtained the ball on a forward pass. Baraboo attempted to punt but the ball went high. Roddy tackling the man for a twenty yard loss. Baraboo punted to Dickens who ran the ball back ten yards. Dickens netted seven on two end runs. On three center plunges Tourtellotte made seventeen yards. Dickens then went over for the third touchdown of the game.

The game from here on resulted in no scores. The ball was at all times within striking distance of the Baraboo goal line but each time it was lost within a yard of Baraboo's goal line.

The officials for the game were as follows:
Referee—Vanisteal.
Umpire—Jungbluth.
Head Linesman—Shirley.

The Lineup.

The two teams lined up as follows:
Baraboo. La Crosse
Diener. C. Davis
Luce. R.G. Techmer
Tarbelcox. L.G. Brindley
Muklay. R.T. Holbrook
Sanberg. L.T. Schlachach
Coughlin. L.E. Roddy
Halstead. R.E. Tourtellotte
Hull. Q. Shaw-Ray
Adams. R.H. Grimes-Novak
Lee. F. Tourtellotte
Whitman. L.H. Dickens

Notes of the Game.

As usual W. Tourtellotte played his star game.

Several former La Crosse boys who are now attending the University witnessed the game from the side lines.

Dickens and Tourtellotte were consistent ground gainers for La Crosse.

Arrangements have been completed for a game with the crack Fargo Athletic association for some time in February.

PAPKE MAKES BIG BET ON HIMSELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Manager Jones of the Papke camp came into the city and looked up the betting on the big battle Thursday in which his man is to engage Stanley Ketchel for the middleweight championship.

"We'll bet, between us, $2,500 on the general result," he said. "On the side I want to bet, if I can get some odds, that Billy knocks him out or wins inside of fifteen rounds. I will try and get these poolroom men to make me a reasonable offer on this proposition. Papke wants to bet $1,000 that he wins inside of that limit."

RIPON HAS BREAK WITH LAWRENCE U

RIPON, Wis., Nov. 21.—Ripon and Lawrence have broken off all athletic relations as a result of the dispute over the eligibility of Bowen, the Carlisle Indian. The football game scheduled for today between the institutions has been called off as have all scheduled basketball games between the schools.

With the break between Ripon and Lawrence comes the final dissolution of the last remnant of the former "Big six" conference of Wisconsin colleges. It is likely that at the meeting of the presidents in Milwaukee in December some action will be taken to reorganize the athletics of the state.

WHY ARE THEY AFRAID?

(Milwaukee Journal.)

The Twins are working in unison and overtime against an investigation of the senatorial primary. Uncle Ike's paper makes this bold threat today:

"If Senator La Follette persists in his attempt to evict Senator Stephenson out of the fruits of his primary victory he will establish a precedent which will return to bother him two years from now," said a state politician yesterday.

No question of the right of the people to have a senator who will vote for them rather than with Aldrich and Foraker disturbs these fellows. The senatorship is a thing to be bargained for among politicians. To be bought and sold like a pair of shoes. If La Follette will give Ike the senatorship now, Ike will let him have it two years later. High ideal of politics, isn't it? Great way for Wisconsin to do its part for the reformation of the senate, the stronghold of Special Privilege! Fine scheme for the most sensibly Progressive state in the union to back up President Taft in his efforts to carry out his campaign pledges!

The Other Twin works along a different line today. It tells about Chairman Edmonds, Uncle Ike's primary campaign manager. E. W. LeRoy, Uncle Ike's home assemblyman, and others coming to town to say that the coming session of the legislature must be a short one—"100

In the HEART of the WORLD'S FINEST BARLEY FIELDS

Stands Our Model 20th Century Brewery.

Therefore we have naturally had for over half a century the first selection of every harvest. To make good beer the brewer must have good barley—the better the barley—the better the beer—the barley we have—the hops we import direct from old Bohemia. Thus by means of our world famous "Gund Natural Process" of brewing, is the sparkling liquid essence of the finest malting barley grown in the new world, and the finest hops grown in the old world. It is impossible to brew a better beer than this matchless beverage. Peerless is bottled only at the brewery. Those who demand the best that can be produced will do well to demand Peerless. Telephone us today, a case will be delivered to your home at once.

Gund's Peerless Beer

counties in the whole state in which he lost the primary. The octogenarian "statesman" should call them off, even if he has to pay as much to lose them as it cost him to get them, for he is in no position to carry heavy handicaps. The Journal says:

"The Chronicle, the public utility organ at La Crosse, is perhaps the most amusing among the Bourbon journals of the state. It says that the 'Honorable Isaac Stephenson' is not worrying about anything else as his 'care is to restore the control of the republican party in Wisconsin to hands that will wield its tremendous influence for the public welfare rather than the gratification of personal ambition.' Here we have a confession from one of the Uncle Ike's 'softies' that the game is to transfer the republican leadership from La Follette to Stephenson. Let us see: Where is the record of Uncle Ike's great unselfishness? When he set out to revenge himself on Spooner and his crowd because they would not make him senator? When he forced La Follette to give him the job two years ago under the solemn promise that he would not be a candidate for the long term? When he broke his word and used his money and the newspaper which he had built up on La Follette's name, to force himself back into the senate, where he voted with Aldrich and Foraker Piffle?"

Again the Journal, reading another effusion from the scribe of the Chronicle, says:

"There are probably no two papers in the state that represent Bourbonism more thoroughly than the La Crosse Chronicle and the Wausau Record-Herald. The Chronicle is a public utility organ and the Record-Herald is so much of a hunker as to cause us to speculate on the why and wherefore of the upheaval in Wausau newspaperdom some time ago. The Chronicle says:

"Neither Senator La Follette nor any other man may properly challenge the result of the primary election by which Senator Stephenson was renominated for the United States senate. If Senator La Follette undertakes it, the Chronicle is in favor of retiring him from politics in Wisconsin along with the other bosses who have already taken their appropriate places at the rear."

"What stuff and nonsense, that the primary can not be properly challenged! The charge is publicly made that the candidate who got a small plurality, a mere fraction of the vote of the state, was not the republican choice at all. The air was filled with reports as to the amount of money used. Wisconsin is a progressive republican state and Mr. Stephenson, who claims to have been successful at the primary, voted with Aldrich and Foraker in the senate. May not the vote be properly challenged? The Chronicle would be in favor of retiring La Follette? It is in favor of that course, and it is bending all its energies in that direction."

The futility of a system under which John D. Rockefeller can remember anything to his advantage, and forget anything to his disadvantage, the deception being so palpable as to leave not the slightest doubt of evasion by perjury as to recollection, is complete. The first absolutely necessary step in the rectification of the trust condition is laws than can be enforced against those who, pursue proud, habitually disregard all law. Jailed for contempt, John D. Rockefeller's memory would come back to him in a hurry.

"Pink" Hawley is signed by Oshkosh for $3,000 the season, to manage its club, and the people down there say it is tantamount to the pennant. La Crosse could have retained him for half that sum. Puzzle: Find the sucker.

Now that the Gelatt newspapers have issued a proclamation depriving John C. McConnell of his right to vote in the coming session of the legislature, the assemblyman-elect may as well resign.

A PROGRESSIVE VICTORY
(Record-Herald.)

The doom of the old senate combine at Springfield has been sounded by the votes pledged to the progressives in the organization of the upper branch of the legislature. The victory thus won by the supporters of good government and constructive legislation is decidedly gratifying to the people of the state. Dethroning of the Barnacles removes a mighty obstacle to progress.

But the victory must be carried further to be of practical benefit. There is the house organization to control as well as that of the senate. Harmony of spirit between the working forces of the two houses must exist if results are to be accomplished. Shorn of power in one branch, the combine will hope for an organization of the other that will neutralize the situation. Its defeat will not be complete unless the senate and house are co-ordinate in fact as well as in theory.

The eyes of the people now will be centered upon the republican members of the house. There is no time for members to lose in showing their colors. It is merely a question of whether they want to support or obstruct the progressive policies declared for at the last election.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

Mrs. Tressie Nelson, 609 North 5th Ave., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "As Peru-na has done me a world of good I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eye of some who has suffered as I did. For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going.

"A good friend advised me to use Peru-na and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made a new woman of me and I have no more pains and life looks bright again."

There are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon.

But by far the greatest number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

A vast multitude of women have been relieved from the ailments peculiar to their sex through the use of Peru-na as prescribed by Dr. Hartman.

He receives many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to womankind.

Of the vast multitude of women Dr. Hartman treats annually, only a small per cent. of them consider it necessary to write to the Doctor at all.

While it is not affirmed that Peru-na will relieve every case of this kind, it is certainly the part of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peru-na a fair trial.

Mrs. Joseph Lacelle, 124 Bronson St., Ottawa, East, Ontario, Canada, writes:

"I suffered with backache and headache for over nine months and nothing relieved me until I took Peru-na. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable, half-dead, half-alive condition."

"I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peru-na, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

Mrs. M. Kliner, 248 E. 36th St., S. E., Cleveland, Ohio, writes:

"I am enjoying good health since taking your medicine. I had suffered for a good many years previous to taking Peru-na, and ever since I can say that I do not know what backache or neuralgia is. I can not assuredly say that anybody afflicted with catarrh in any form can be cured by taking Peru-na."

IMPORTANT COURT DECISIONS

VALIDITY OF TENEMENT HOUSE ACT.—The Wisconsin tenement house act, which provided that every tenement house must have courts of certain dimensions, and must be equipped with the ordinary modern improvements as to water supply common to cities having public water and sewer systems, and that any person violating the provisions should be subject to fine or imprisonment, was declared unconstitutional in Bonnett vs. Vallier, 116 Northwestern Reporter, 885.

The Wisconsin supreme court held that the statute was such an ordinary person would relinquish his right to use his real estate for tenement houses rather than take the chances of violating the statute, and that the effect of enforcing the penalties would be to take property without due process of law.

How Is Your Digestion?

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimony. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

Flippancy Easy

Ripley Hitchcock, the brilliant wit, at a dinner in Bar Harbor attacked flippantly in criticism. "It is so distressingly easy to be flippant," Mr. Hitchcock said. "Without any difficulty one can take up a beautiful work of art, apply a little flippancy to it, and lo, it becomes silly and ridiculous. A good example of this is Ruskin's criticism of Kingsley's beautiful lines—'They rowed her in across the roll-foam.' The cruel, crawling foam.' 'Ruskin, in a lecture, recited those excellent lines in a scornful voice, then made the comment: 'Gentlemen, the foam is not cruel, neither does it crawl!' 'Now, that was very telling in a flippant way, but don't the lines remain beautiful for all?'

The people who want it don't seem to realize that there isn't such a thing as the biggest half.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Where the Others Failed

A young man in quest of a situation entered the apartment of a high bank officer and made known his errand.

"Well," kindly said the captain of finance, "there's an opening in the bank for the right young man, and there have been several applicants for it already. Are you energetic and willing to learn?"

"Try me, sir."

"That's good for a starter. Do you gamble?"

"No, sir. I have a mother to support and can't risk my earnings that way."

"Ahem. Now—here the great man squared himself before his applicant, in indicating that the most important question was now to come. "Do you ever go fishing?"

"Yes, sir," replied the young man without hesitation. "Was fishing yesterday."

"Ah! and what kind of a catch did you make?"

"Only one little perch," smiled he.

"Good. You're the young man I've been seeking. All the others answered up all right until I put that last question; then they lied!" —New York Times.

They are reviving that old anecdote about W. R. Travers, the stuttering broker, concerning his discovery that Henry Clews was proud of the fact that he was a self-made man. Next time he met the banker, Mr. Travers eyed him intently.

"Well," inquired Mr. Clews, impatiently, "what's the matter?"

"Is it true that you are a self-made man?"

"Certainly," replied Mr. Clews. "W-Well, while you were about it, why didn't you p-put more hair on top of your head?"

"Rather a rum thing happened next day. I ran across Wilverly. You boys don't remember 'Duffer' Wilverly. He was at Harrow with me and went into the Brigade. Amazon' chap! A thunderin' cricketer, and as clever as they make 'em. We called him the 'Duffer' because he was such a nailer at everything. Good-lookin' too, tall, fair cove, not very unlike you, Hugo, my boy. There wasn't a more popular fellow in London than the Duffer. He brought off a queer double event: won the National on his own gee and published a poem! I'm not a judge of poetry, but fellows in the know told me it was a bit of all right. Then he disappeared, dropped out entirely. Broke? Not a bit of it. He got what the Yankees call 'cold feet.' He told me all about it over my campfire. He was fed up with this sort of thing." The Major waved an all-including arm.

"Call of the Wild?" suggested one of the company.

"That's it in one. So he cut loose. I found him on his own station, fit as fiddle and as happy as a tomtit. He told me solemnly that he was never coming back."

Half of the young men present said emphatically that they were damned. The Major muttered: "Sto-ri-anary thing—very!" and lit his fifth cigar.

Hugo returned to his flat late. Before he went to bed, he looked at his mother's portrait. Again he found himself wondering: "Does she know?" Then he laughed, thinking of Wilverly. In the Adriatic, trying to masticate Cyprus beef, for instance, he had anticipated with pleasure this first night in town: the plunge into the pleasures of the old life. And now he had made the appalling discovery that it bored him to tears. The fun of Mayfair was no longer fun for him.

Why?

With a vague feeling of irritation, he stared at his mother's picture. She conjured up a vision of Cynthia Charteris. Then, quite plainly, he saw Joy, and then, at the last, Joy melted from his sight and the importunate Poppet held up her mouth to be kissed.

Angela did not reach London upon the following day. Hugo spent the morning in the Zoological Gardens, being a Fellow of the Society and well known to several of the keepers. As a boy, nothing amused him more than to stand opposite some magnificent beast and select the exact spot where he would try to place a bullet if the animal were charging. Since those days he had shot some splendid specimens, and more than one had come within an inch or two of killing him. Recalling these escapes, he wondered grimly whether the fitter animal had survived.

For a couple of hours he watched the restless creatures pacing up and down their ill-smelling dens. The polar bears, in particular, challenged his pity. One monster reared himself up and blinked at Hugo with uncanny reproachful eyes. "You know what we are accustomed to," he seemed to say. "Isn't this sort of thing an outrage on your ridiculous civilization?" The eagles stared at him fiercely. Of all the unfortunate prisoners herded together their lot appeared to be the most unhappy and cruel. Certainly, it would be a kindness to fetch a gun and despatch these lords of the air condemned to sit for ever gazing into the sunlit spaces where once they had held undisputed sway.

Hugo searched in vain for a leopard presented by him to the Society. A keeper told him that it was dead. "I'm glad to hear it," said Hugo, cheerfully. "That's the best bit of news I've had today."

The man touched his hat, agape with astonishment.

"I'd like to kill 'em all," said Hugo, still smiling.

Again the keeper touched his hat, but as Hugo moved on, he muttered: "The bloodthirsty loonatic, reg-lar butcher!"

Hugo went home, sent in his resignation to the Society, and wrote a letter to the Times. In it he suggested that the public might study zoology from subjects stuffed and classified, as in the Natural History Museums. The Gardens, being an Inferno worthy of the Dark Ages, ought to be put down by Act of Parliament. It occurred to him as a happy thought that the dens might be kept for wife-beaters, vivisectionists, sweaters of cheap labour, and slum-landlords. The one reason which justified the existence of the Gardens—to wit: its claim to be considered as a place of popular entertainment—would justify also its metamorphosis into an open-air prison for the criminals he had named. The lower classes and all the dear little ones would find it excruciatingly funny to throw bits of bun into the mouths of eminent surgeons, and no interfering keeper would rebuke Arriet for poking up a confirmed wife-beater with the end of her umbrella!

When he had finished the letter, he read it through, laughed, and tore it up, recognizing the fatuity of attacking British Institutions.

During the afternoon he heard Esme Burgess's name. Fortune had not behaved too kindly to Esme in designing Joy Vennable to be a sister instead of a wife, but she was making amends in other ways. He had been triumphantly elected Member of Parliament for a constituency in Lancashire, where the voters are not easy to please. Burgess, it seemed, had captivated the rough miners and factory hands. After the declaration of the poll an extraordinary scene of enthusiasm had taken place. Hugo's informant swore roundly that some of the lasses had surrounded the successful candidate and insisted upon kissing him, thereby following the examples of the young ladies overseas who tried so hard to make a spangled ass out of their national hero. Hugo thought of Burgess embracing against his will, turning a blushing cheek to these bold hussies. What irony! The one woman he wanted was in the Forest of Ys, and unwilling to leave it at his invitation.

Bidding Burgess good-bye, Hugo had muttered a word of encouragement. Hope seemed to have oozed out of the orator, who was packing his suit-case when Hugo returned to the cottage after that terrible night spent upon the moor. Now, three months had passed. Hugon wondered whether Burgess had seen Joy, whether the old pleasant relations had been resumed. It would be easy to call upon Burgess, but incredibly difficult to speak of Joy. So Hugo remained in his flat, thinking, thinking, thinking!

But his thoughts had not crystallized into definite conclusions when next day he found himself in a lift, ascending to Angela's flat, where Angela, in the demurest frock, was awaiting him. He hoped that Poppet would be there, to save the awkwardness of the first meeting. Angela, to do her justice, had a keen sense of the ridiculous, and a really unerring instinct for exits and entrances. She would not rush at him as those Lancashire lasses had rushed at poor Burgess. All the same, she might reasonably expect some exhibition of feeling, the right word, the understanding glance, the glad hand. But his knees became as wax when he thought of these things.

Laus Deo! Poppet was there, prettier than ever, and overjoyed to see her darling Uncle Hugo. In his overwhelming gratitude, he hugged her too hard.

"I knew you'd come back," she said. "Mummie said you wouldn't but I knew you would, because you promised."

"Well, here I am," said Hugo, speaking and feeling like a clown in a pantomime. He had assumed a sort of reckless geniality, the broad grin with which the paladins of today face outrageous fortune.

With Poppet hanging round his neck, he held out his hand to Angela, who had a blush upon her cheeks. Then they sat down and began to talk.

"Begin at the beginning," said Angela.

He could see that she was rather excited, for the colour remained in her cheeks, and in her voice lurked an impatient, slightly petulant tone, often used in the old days when talking to John, but hardly ever to him. He found himself wondering whether it were possible that she met Mrs. Giles Mottisfont. Mrs. Giles would certainly not hesitate to give him away, but as certainly she would be discreet for Joy's sake.

"I camped upon the banks of a river called Jordan. Ever heard of it Poppet?"

"Course. Go on!"

"Abana and Parphar—not to mention the Seine—may be finer rivers, but I preferred Jordan."

"What does he mean, Mummie?"

"I don't know; perhaps we shall find out presently."

"Upon the banks of the Jordan I lived the simple life."

"It seems to have agreed with you."

"Appearances are deceptive. You look remarkably well, Angela, but haven't you something on your mind?"

She frowned. "Poppet!"

"Yes, Mummie?"

"Now that you have seen Uncle Hugo, run off to nurse, darling!"

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

It has been tested thousands of times by the world's most eminent chemists. The decision has always been the same—"Absolutely pure and unadulterated." For forty-eight years the best known doctors have prescribed it. As a tonic it is better than all the combinations of drugs that could be compounded. It is not only a stimulant—it is a medicinal food, and is recognized as such by physicians. A leading New York doctor said, "Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a form of liquid food already digested." A bottle in the house will save suffering, perhaps life itself.

GUARANTEE. "We guarantee that the most sensitive stomach will retain Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey when it will retain no other stimulant or nourishment."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold throughout the world by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped direct for $1.00 a large bottle. In need of advice, write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated medical booklet, containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of the world's greatest medicine. Beware of imitations and substitutes offered by unreliable dealers who tell you they are "just as good as" Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Insist on the genuine. It will cure you.

SENT UP FOR STEALING FROM A WOMAN

STOLE FROM WASHWOMAN

Copped Her Earnings but Was Caught and Now Rests in the Penitentiary

MANKATO, Minn., Nov. 21.—Everett W. Evans of this city, who was about a week ago indicted by the grand jury of Blue Earth county for grand larceny in the first degree, and who, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty to the charge, but who was allowed to later change his plea to guilty in the second degree, was yesterday sentenced to three years at Stillwater by Judge Pfau, in the district court.

This sentence was pronounced as a punishment for Evans' crime of stealing all the savings of ten years of a hard working woman of this city by the name of Miss Mary McLaughlin. Miss McLaughlin earns her livelihood by doing housecleaning, and fearing to put her money into the banks, had stored it in an old trunk in the residence she occupies together with a small child. The prattlings of the child one day disclosed the fact that Miss McLaughlin had secreted in the old trunk, in a tin can, a large amount of money. Her occupation compelling her to be absent from home a great deal of the time, gave the thief ample opportunity to enter the house and secure the money, which amounted to $3,000.

FORGED LETTER IS CAUSE OF SUICIDE

GIRL DENIES SHE WROTE HEARTBURNING NOTE

IOWA LOVER KILLS HIMSELF

Driven to Distraction by Supposed Spurning of Love Ends His Unhappy Life

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Nov. 21.—An investigation being made here by detectives discloses the fact that Irwin Timmerman of this city, who committed suicide in Fort Madison recently, was driven to self-destruction by a letter which he received a day or so before his death and to which was signed the name of Lena Janssen, his sweetheart of Burlington. The signature proves to have been a forgery. Miss Janssen denies having written or signed the letter.

"All Is Over" Says Letter. The letter told Timmerman that she did not love him and could not marry him, and that all was over between them. Timmerman had been hurt in a football game, and was suffering at the time from his injuries. The receipt of the letter evidently broke his heart, for an answer was found in his pocket after he had killed himself mourning his lost love, and giving assurance of constant affection.

That some one forged the letter and sent it to Timmerman with the intention of breaking off the match between him and Miss Janssen is now firmly believed by the friends of the dead young man and of Miss Janssen.

Detectives On Case. Detectives are attempting to find the writer of the forgery, and it is believed the developments will be of a sensational character. It is possible that the clues now thought to be in the hands of the authorities will lead to the exposure of well known persons and their conviction for forgery.

BAD FIRE ON THE NORTH SIDE

Fire department No. 2 was called out this morning at 7 o'clock to a chimney fire at the residence of Mr. Fred Blanchard of 1003 Caledonia street. The fire being rather early in the morning, it was very hard to find where it was and no one could tell who turned in the alarm. After a few moments search sparks were seen coming out of a chimney and that was the only clue that led to the place of the fire.

A new French dry cleaning and pressing establishment has been opened on the North side. It is the only dry cleaning plant on the North side.

Mr. F. Benjamin has opened up the new plant at 729 Mill street and is an experienced hand at that business.

HOLDUP MAN SHOOTS VICTIM

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 21.—Philip Smith, an employee of the St. Paul Gas Light company until three months ago, was shot by a man whom he says tried to hold him up at Jackson and Seventh streets about 1 o'clock. He was found by the police lying near the railroad tracks at the foot of Broadway and taken to the city hospital in the police ambulance.

SMOKED IN BED; KILLED IN FIRE

DECORAH, Iowa, Nov. 21.—At an early hour the home of James Murray was gutted by fire and Murray was burned to death. The fire is supposed to have originated from the dead man's carelessness. He had been in the habit of smoking after retiring and it is thought sparks from his pipe ignited the bedding and then fired the house.

LARSEN-NEIN CLOSING SALE

The Larsen-Nein Clothing company which has been in business on the North side for a number of years, is going out of business. There is a closing out sale being held at present. After the sale Mr. Larsen will leave for the west, where he intends to go into business.

LEAPS FROM TRAIN

DULUTH, Nov. 21.—Malcolm Stewart, who was wanted in Duluth on a charge of being short $1,700 in his accounts with the Universal Milling company, leaped head foremost through a lavatory window on the Omaha's Twilight Limited and escaped.

He was being brought back to Duluth from Minneapolis, where he was arrested by Sheriff Bates of St. Louis county. Stewart jumped from the train as it ran onto the bridge over the bay, and if he had delayed his leap a minute longer he would have fallen into the water.

ENDS HER GRIEF WITH DEADLY DRUG

PIERTT, S. D., Nov. 21.—Grieving over the death of her mother, Miss Nettie Perry of Rushmore, Minn., this evening took a dose of laudanum in the toilet room at the Northwestern depot in this city.

A short time after she was found lying on the floor with a partly emptied poison bottle in her hands. She partially recovered and was taken to the hospital, where she is not yet out of danger.

She came here from Rushmore to visit a brother, who lives near Fort Pierre. Winter blasts, causing pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption will soon be here. Cure your cough now, and strengthen your lungs with Foley's Honey and Tar. Do not risk starting the winter with weak lungs, when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure the most obstinate coughs and colds, and prevent serious results. O. T. Erhart.

STOMACH MISERY GOES

An Absolute Cure for All Stomach
Trouble Is at the Drug Stores
Here Waiting for You.

When your stomach is weak or lacking in Gastric juice, anything that you eat, no difference what it is, will sour on your stomach, raise the bile and acids to cover your food like oil on water, causing Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Stomach nervousness and Belching of sour poisons, which produce foul odors, nasty taste, bilious headache, Heartburn, Intestinal griping and make you an object of misery. This is stomach trouble which can not be overcome with ordinary digestive medicines. It is caused by fermentation of your food, which will be remedied at once by Pape's Diapepsin, a preparation pleasant to take and as harmless as candy, though it will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat.

Indigestion is a result, not a cause of your trouble. If the Stomach is sour and unhealthy, your food becomes tainted, and that's what is causing the indigestion and gas on stomach and other miseries. Pape's Diapepsin is an Antacid, most powerful digestive and thorough regulator for weak stomachs. These Triangles will digest any kind of food you eat and will cleanse the stomach and intestines in a natural way, which makes you feel fine five minutes afterwards.

Any good Pharmacy here will supply you with a case of Pape's Diapepsin for fifty cents. Just reading about this remarkable stomach preparation will not help. You should get now and get a case. Put your Stomach in full health and by tomorrow you will forget the misery of Stomach trouble. Your case is no different from many others. It isn't Stomach Nerves or Catarrh of the Stomach, or Gastritis, or Dyspepsia. It is Food rotting—Food Fermentation—that's all—and takes about five minutes to overcome.

OF MORMONISM IN WISCONSIN

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has about two thousand missionaries throughout the world. About seven hundred are in the United States and the remainder in foreign lands. A conference of the Wisconsin Elders was recently held at Milwaukee. At present there are eighteen elders laboring in this state, at the following places: Five at Milwaukee, where there is a thriving branch of the church; three at La Crosse, and two in each of the following places respectively: Depere, New London, Horicon, Campbellsport and Muscoda. The average time spent in the mission field by the elders is from twenty-four to twenty-eight months; the time as well as the means incident to a mission are voluntarily given. There is no coercion or compulsion in the church. No salary is paid by the church to any of its missionaries.

Wisconsin is one of the conferences in the Northern States mission, which includes also the states of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and the province of Manitoba, Canada.

There are about one hundred and seventy elders in this mission. The mission is presided over by a president, with headquarters at Chicago. The work in each conference is in charge of a conference president, who assigns the elders to their different fields of labor. The following figures show approximately what has been done in Wisconsin since Jan. 1, 1908: Books of Mormon sold, 1,215; other books distributed, 4,519; tracts distributed, 44,424; meetings held, 925. What has been done in this state is a fair average of what has been done throughout the mission. Two companies of six elders each have traveled throughout the state during the past summer, holding weekly conferences in a large number of cities, ranging from Milwaukee to Sturgeon Bay and Rhineland, north and east. Thousands of people have heard our doctrine, and we have received excellent treatment. Business and professional men, city authorities and newspapers have given us due consideration, and aided very materially in advertising our work.

At present Elders William Ogden and John Wendell have charge of the branch and work in La Crosse. Regular services are held on Sunday at 1510 Avon street. During the week a house to house canvass is made, distributing literature in the city and vicinity, cottage meetings are also held at the homes of the members and friends.

JOE SPEARS BAGS LARGE DUCK HAUL

"MALLARD" FLOCK ALIGHTS BE-NEATH WAGON BRIDGE

THOUGHT THEM BENUMBED

But the "Mallards" Prove to be Flock of Tame Ducks Belonging to Langdon-Boyd

Quack! Quack! Quack!

The early morning silence of the levee was disturbed by the clatter of a flock of ducks yesterday. "Holy smoke!" shouted Joe Spears, the boat liver man, "if there isn't a bunch of ducks right under the wagon bridge. Quick! Where's my shotgun?" and grabbing it and a fist full of shells he started out.

Yes, sure "uff. There they were and right under the bridge!"

He Got the Leader

"Watch me pop that leader there," said Joe to himself, as he brought his "twelve gauge" to bear on the target of the flock. "I'll save him for Thanksgiving." Bang! went the trusty gun and over he went.

What was Spears' surprise, however, when the flock failed to fly merely splashing the water and swimming off a little further.

Benumbed by Cold.

"Say! those ducks are numbed by the cold. Oh, isn't it a shame to take the money," and jumping into one of his skiffs he proceeded to follow "em up." He followed them as far as the sand bar at the lower end of Pettibone, getting occasional shots. The birds, upon reaching the bar, walked right onto it and Joe proceeded to chase them around using the butt of his gun—his ammunition having run out.

"This work is too strenuous," he said, and getting into his boat pulled back to his house for more shells.

What was his dismay on reaching his dock to find representatives of Langdon-Boyd's Packing company wildly waving their arms and demanding that he pay for the ducks.

"What's the matter with you?" he queried. "Can't a man shoot ducks if he wants to?"

"Why, those are tame ducks that got out of the yard," was the rejoinder, and Joe "vamoosed."

of the older citizens of Newport were distressed today to learn that the Rev. S. W. Moran, an Episcopal clergyman, had been committed to an insane asylum in Wisconsin.

Some twenty-two years ago this clergyman came from a seminary at Nicoia, Wis., where he graduated with honor to accept the curateship of fashionable Trinity church, where the majority of the members of the cottage settlement worship, including the Watts, Shermans, Belmonts, De Forests, Stewarts, Berwinds, Fishs, Clews, Brooks, Iselins, Kings and others.

Built Great Church.

"The late Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, the Dresser family, Mrs. Geo. Vanderbilt, Mrs. John Nicholas Brown and others were particularly interested in the new church and gave liberally toward its erection and support.

"All went well with the pastor for six years, during which time he introduced the first surplice choir in Newport. He also introduced the high church service, but finally rector and congregation disagreed because of rumors of his drinking, whether at his home or at dinner parties. The rector stated this was his own affair.

"He severed his connections with Newport and left for Florida. Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Moran visited Newport and received a hearty welcome from his former parishioners."

CHRYSTAL HERNE, SHE GRINNED, SHE DID

And then Chrystal Herne grinned. At first there was a twitching of the mouth, then a struggle between real mirth and simulated pathos that was pathetic in its intensity. After that she gave play to emotions that were no part of her emotional cast, and if the grin did not extend from ear to ear it was due to the insufficient elasticity of her mouth.

It all came off in the tragic third act of "The Melting Pot," and no one but an actor lady whose memory held sad recollection of a one night stand company the career of which had ended on the rocks of adversity out where the cow paths and tote roads afford difficult walking could have fully understood the things that went on in the pool of Miss Herne's risibilities when somebody in the box office dropped the cash drawer filled with the night's receipts, just as Whiteside was legging it to the climax of a love scene in which the troubles of the Jews were the paramount issue. She tried to suppress her joy, but it went to her head and settled in her face. Finally she turned her back on the audience, and while Whiteside damned the Russian "face" her smile broadened until it swept over the theater in a wave of open mouthed delight.

sides being penalized, characterized the next few minutes' play. Wheaton and Coy proved the ground gainers in this period. The ball saw-sawed in midfield for several minutes. Verweib, by end runs and smashing center, proved a good Harvard ground gainer. Corbett, in four consecutive plays, gained 23 yards. Verweib was relieved by Kennards at full back.

Harvard Scores

Immediately Kennard got in the game he sent an easy drop kick over the bar, the ball glancing off Goebel's high extended hand. Score, Harvard 4, Yale 0.

Andrus kicked off to White, who returned the ball to Harvard's 15 yard line. Corbett and White gained 10 and 5 yards respectively. The ball was fumbled and Harvard in recovering was penalized 15 yards for off side. The half ended with the ball on Harvard's 40 yard line. The first half demonstrated the result of the even money proposition. The score is the first Harvard has made against Yale in six years.

In the second half McKay kicked off to Wheaton on Yale's 8 yard line, and skillful dodging, Wheaton ran the oval to midfield. Coy smashed center, and the ball saw-sawed for the next few minutes. Coy proved a dependable ground gainer. Kennard punted to Coy, who ran the ball back to Yale's 40 yard line. Wheaton failed to gain on a line plunge, and Coy punted to Brown, who was downed on Harvard's 33 yard line after a 3 yard run back.

Second Half Scoreless.

The second half was characterized by much punting and many fumbles and end runs. Hayes replaced Burch. Kennard made three yards around Yale's left end. Philbin made two yards on line plunge. Coy punted to Brown who ran the ball back five yards to Harvard's fifteen yard line. Leslie relieved Corbett. Kennard on a fake kick made three yards, Johnson relieved Cory and Cooney relieved Biddle. Johnson worked a forward pass, Haines failing to catch it. Harvard recovered the ball on its own 40 yard line. Leslie punted to Coy, who failed to catch it on Harvard's forty-five yard line. Dropping back apparently for a placement goal, Johnson hurried the forward pass which Bridges recovered eighty yards down in front of Harvard's goal. The play was declared illegal because the pass went over the center of the line, and the ball was given to Harvard on its own thirty-five yard line. Kennard was relieved by Hoff. Both teams were frequently penalized for off-side plays during this period. West succeeded Horrs. Smith went through Bride's planting the ball on his own forty-five yard line. White went through center for three yards just as time was called. Final—Harvard 4, Yale 0.

GREAT STRUGGLE FOR THE MASTERY

they tried for a field goal, but missed. Steffen punted to the middle of the field. A series of punts followed. Chicago rushed the ball from its own 35 yard line for a touchdown by a series of end runs and brilliant forward passes. Worthwine carried the ball over. Schommer-kicked goal. Score—Chicago 12, Wisconsin 6.

Chicago Scores Again.

Iddings and Schommer on forward passes carried the ball down the field for the third touchdown of the half. Schommer kicked goal. This ended the scoring half. Score, Chicago 18, Wisconsin 6.

Second Half.

After the beginning of the second half there was much kicking. The Badgers then rallied and forced the ball from the center of the field to Chicago's one yard line, where Chicago held and Page kicked out the danger.

Wisconsin Scores Again.

Wisconsin continued to rally and pushed back down the line and over for a touchdown. Moll kicked goal. Score, Chicago 18, Wisconsin 12.

Chicago Has Advantage.

From a standpoint unbiased by the enthusiasm of the collegian for his alma mater it must be admitted that the balance of opportunity swings toward Chicago. The feeling cannot be other than that history is more likely to repeat herself than she is to smash precedent. The Chicago eleven comes here with a reputation for the season that o'ertops that of the Wisconsin players. There are several brighter and more particular stars than are offered in the cardinal line and back field and the record of achievement would indicate a Chicago victory.

Chances Better Than They Seem.

However, there is one salient fact that lends to the belief that Wisconsin's chances are greater than they seem. That is that since the men first donned their togs this fall practically all the training and coaching has been with a view to defeating Chicago. Other games—even though the scores and displays of form were contradictory—were more or less incidental. Nothing was uncovered and no attempt made to do more than ward off defeat.

Whichever team proves the best at the game of strategy today will win the game. It is a game in which physical diplomacy will win over that which the athletics reformer chooses to call "brutality." The Chicago team has the call in the purely open style of play, and Wisconsin has been drilled to meet this superiority of brains. The game will be hair-raising from whistle to whistle.

Badgers Determined.

With "stop Steffen" as the purpose and "stop Schommer and Page" as the method of accomplishing that purpose, the Badger eleven went in to the game with the given determination to stop everybody else, too. They knew that tackling hard and low would be their only salvation against the fleetness of the Maroon captain, who would play the last game of his career like a fiend. But Wisconsin has not forgotten Eckersall, neither has the team forgotten what it saw in the Chicago-Cornell game, and the result will be some surprises.

Odds Favor Chicago.

Betting odds generally remained at 5 to 4, despite the efforts of Wisconsin supporters to knock them up to 2 to 1. There were a few wagers at the latter figure as well as a few on the foolish proposition that one team or the other would or wouldn't score, but the Chicago "sports" were careful and bet to win.

The Scalping Evil.

The scalping evil has followed the "reform" which sells $2 football seats to students for 50 cents. It is remarkable to note that all but 75 of the Badger student body availed themselves of the opportunity to get their seats at this price, and it is estimated that not more than one-half of these intended to go to the game. This explains the ease with which anybody with a dollar could buy $2 reserved seats in the grand stands by waiting until the regular sale exhausted the supply and then purchasing from a street vendor. A large number of these cut rate tickets were those sent to Chicago to be retailed for 50 cents and which were sold to scalpers for 75 cents by those who didn't find it possible to attend.

MAY LYNCH YOUTH

MUSCATINE, Ia., Nov. 21.—Pursued by enraged neighbors, who are armed and led by hounds, George Dalton of Letts is in danger of being lynched because of a suspicion that he attempted to kill his willow-ed mother by setting fire to her house, from which she was rescued just before the walls collapsed.

Dalton, who is twenty years old, is said to have been almost crazed by gambling loss, and it is alleged that last night he went to his mother with a demand for money to pay a bet.

Son in Wild Rage

Unable to give him any money, Mrs. Dalton is said to have been furiously denounced by the youth, who then left the house.

Mrs. Dalton retired alone in the little home, and it is charged that her son returned later and set fire to the place.

CITY NEEDS NEW WATER REGULATION

PRESENT SYSTEM IS ILLEGAL AND OBSOLETE

RATES UNFAIR TO PATRONS

Board of Public Works Wants New Rules Governing Collections and Water Rates

The board of public works is and has been for a long time having a great deal of trouble in regard to water rent and the charging of such rent. Persons are confronting them every day with complaints in regard to the prices. The moving of meters is also causing the board a lot of work and bother. Every time a person moves, the meter must be changed or a new rate made. These rates apply to the size of the house and if a person moves from a larger house into a smaller one he has to have a different water rate and the rules are such now, that the person entering a house is compelled to pay in advance what the former occupant used the six months before. This seems, and is, very unreasonable. If it was done by any one else than the city, the victims would refuse to pay, but as it is they must pay or the water will be shut off.

Submit Resolutions.

The board of public works realizes this and have submitted resolutions to the council as follows: All applications for use of water on any premises must be made by the owner of such premises or authorized agent thereof, except, as hereinafter provided. All water rents due for the furnishing of water to any building or premises shall be a lien on said premises.

The water rules at present do not provide for the above conditions and there is no rule relating to water rent being a lien, but the city charter in section 10, chapter 9, the following provision is made: Water rates for water furnished to any building, or premises, shall be a lien on lot, part of lot, parcel of land on which such building or premises shall be situated.

Therefore all former ordinances to the contrary are illegal and void.

Must Always Pay in Advance.

According to the rules and regulations persons using water and installing a meter are compelled to pay a flat rate for six months and at the end of six months the reading of the meter for the preceding six months shall be used as an advanced rate for the next six months. Therefore the consumer is always paying in advance. Sometimes this is entirely wrong, as in the case where the preceding tenant has had a leaky meter or a defective faucet and the meter reads much larger than the average amount; the new tenant is compelled by the rules to pay an exorbitant charge for the next six months.

Devise New Rule.

The board of public works wants to rectify this, and a new rule has been devised as follows: All persons using water meters shall be compelled to pay a minimum rate of $2.75 at the beginning of each six months and the difference that may accrue at the end of the six months.

This plan would make a difference of about $3,500 in the estimate of the city's income account. If this plan of collecting water rent were put in practice at the end of the year there would be no difference in the total receipts, as the difference would be collected at the end of the six months according to the rule that $2.75 shall be paid in advance and the difference that may accrue at the end of the six months.

Section 8, ordinance 336, says: In all cases where one-half yearly payments are required, payments must be made in advance from time of first commencing use of water to the end of current year, EXCEPT IN CASES WHERE METERS ARE USED.

It is evident therefore that the present method of procedure is not only contrary to the city charter but contrary to the city ordinances. The method is also an obsolete one, as, in all of the progressive cities people do not pay for water until they use it in the cases where meters are used. The rent for such water is a lien on the premises where the water is used. It can be easily seen, therefore, that the rules now in use not only ought to be changed but must be revised if such regulations are to be lawful.

It is usually necessary in the circuit court to have a full venire of jurymen present, thirty-six men, while if a term of a county court were held every month for the trial of criminal cases, many of the cases could be set, and only the jury upon that particular case would need to be present.

THE WILD WIDOW

BY

GERTIE DE S. WENTWORTH-JAMES

MANY heroines in fiction have trodden dangerous paths in the pursuit of their main desire, but the paths trodden by "The Wild Widow" are more than usually overgrown with insidious perils.

She is poor—she becomes rich—she marries a man under perhaps more extraordinary circumstances than any "widow" has ever married before; while her friend (a girl whose girlhood has been spent in unconsciously waiting for a desperate, passionate love) offers example of that mingled ardour and caution which dominates the nature of so many modern women.

Many social and moral questions are discussed in the book, the situations are poignant, and a most astounding surprise is revealed in the last chapter.

CO-OPERATION OF STATES DESIRED

CONSERVATION COMMISSION TO TAKE ACTION SOON

GOVERNORS TO MEET DEC. 8

Commissioners Will Make Specific Recommendations to Congress for Proposed Legislation

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21. (By J. C. Welliver.)

The National Conservation Commission expects to get down to practical things within the next few months. Up to this time it has devoted itself largely to carrying forward a propaganda. Now many persons are beginning to make inquiry as to what it is likely to accomplish in the way of practical work. Everybody agrees that its mission—the conservation of the natural resources of the country—is a most commendable one, at the same time the point is made that it must do something more than hold conventions, and inspire newspaper and magazine articles about the necessity of conserving the natural resources of the country. In other words the commission must come down out of the air and offer definite plans for starting the great work about which it is so enthusiastic and in which the public is deeply interested. The commission is not unmindful of the fact that it is expected to become practical without further delay, and this it promises to do.

The work of the propagandists has gone forward with more continuity and a good deal more effectual way since the National Conservation commission was organized last June. The formation of this commission was in reality a uniting of activities along several lines—a reorganization of the general movement for the improvement of the inland waterways of the country and the conservation of the country's natural resources. The Inland Waterways Commission, created by President Roosevelt in March, 1907, was merged into the National Conservation Commission, and became the division of waters in the general scheme of organization. The other divisions established are forests, lands, and minerals. Gifford Pinchot, United States Forester, was made chairman of the national commission and Thomas R. Shipp, of Indianapolis, secretary. The reorganization followed the meeting of governors of states at the White House at which the general conservation movement was so warmly endorsed.

Taking of Stock Completed

The commission decided that its first work should be the taking of stock of the country's waters, forests, lands and minerals. That task has been completed. There has been brought together what is probably the most useful collection of facts about the material things in which national industry and progress are hampered that was ever assembled at one time. Reports presenting the facts and pointing out their significance have been prepared. The facts are there in dollars and cents, tons of coal, board feet of timber—power of water, acres of land. The taking of the inventory was made comparatively easy because the United States geological survey had already gathered practically all the information sought.

Governors Meet in December

Now that the commission has assembled the facts as to the natural waterways of the country that might be improved and made commercially valuable and is ready to enlighten the country as to the timber supply,

TAMPERED WITH DANGER

Finally Had to Give Up Coffee Drink.

Because the poisonous drug in coffee does not "kill right out," many persons do not think there is any poison there.

But there is. Caffeine, the drug in coffee causes undue action of the heart, which results in palpitation and weakness. These often cause chronic heart trouble which may shorten life.

"Cupitation, nervousness, insomnia and other coffee symptoms, are the danger signals nature throws out to the coffee drinker."

"While yet an infant on my mother's knee," writes a Penna. lady, "she gave me sips of coffee. As I grew older, my appetite for coffee was indulged until I did not enjoy a meal without it."

"By the time I grew to womanhood, I began to suffer the consequences. My stomach had become disordered, and often at night I could not sleep for hours on account of palpitation of the heart."

"I was induced to stop coffee, but as soon as I was better, I would again tamper with the danger by going back to it. After several such experiences, I tried Postum."

"At first I did not like it. But I soon found by following directions on the pkg. that it was easy to make good Postum and I now sit down to my meals with a cup of rich golden brown Postum by my plate and it makes the meal a feast fit for a king."

"Best of all, while I enjoy my Postum, my health improves steadily. My sister, who used to have spells of acute indigestion from coffee, now enjoys real comfort from Postum, which we all have three times a day."

"There's a Reason."

the public lands and the minerals that ought to be conserved, what next. The national commission will meet here December 1 and go over the inventory December 8 the governors of the states are to come back for another conference at which the practical question as to what the next step shall be will be considered. By January 1 the national commission is to submit to President Roosevelt the inventory and recommendations based thereon. The inland waterways commission, which, as already pointed out, has been urged into the work. Every state wants its waterways improved first, and there are already indications that many commonwealths will, through their legislatures at the sessions this coming January, take initial steps toward waterway improvement.

Recommendations to be Made

The national conservation commission will undoubtedly have some specific recommendations to make for legislation by congress. It will favor the creation of the Appalachian forest reserve; a law for the protection of water power rights along streams over which the federal government has control; will have something to suggest as to how the improvement of waterways should proceed; will ask that the timber and stone act (for year a bone of contention in the mountainous west) be repealed; and will ask for legislation making the national conservation commission a permanent official body. Of these various recommendations none will be of more importance than that of protecting the water power rights of the government. It is common knowledge that the water power in the far west has already passed into the hands of the electrical trusts. The great problem will be to wrest these rights from the companies that have taken possession of them.

States to Take Part
The great conservation movement is not dependent wholly on the federal government. States have their share of the work to perform. And they are downing a disposition to act with promptness. Since the meeting of governors of states here last spring twenty-five state conservation commissions have been created. Governor Hanly has just written the national commission that he will shortly appoint such a commission for Indiana. As yet there is no clear idea as to just what the states should do and what the federal government and the state is expected to find its particular field and work for it. For one thing the national commission does not intend to make any recommendations to state legislatures. State commissions, speaking through the governors, are expected to make such recommendations. Possibly a plan may be worked out for co-operation between the states and the federal government for the improvement of inland waterways. Unquestionably commission confronts many knotty problems. Public sentiment everywhere favors the development of the natural water courses for commercial uses, but there is the question of where to begin on a scheme of development, the problem of money, and the question as to how rapidly the work of improvement should be carried forward. And there is the old problem of whether the States or the federal government should bear the cost or whether there should be co-operation in the work. Every state wants its waterways improved first, and there are already indications that many commonwealths will, through their legislatures at the sessions this coming January, take initial steps toward waterway improvement.

Congress Must Make Program.

In the end congress must make the waterways development program if the final decision is that the federal government shall bear the cost or that there shall be co-operation between the states. It is evident that states will be discouraged from pushing ahead with piecemeal improvements of their waterways. While, as has been pointed out, no general scheme has yet been devised the sentiment is clearly in favor of "beginning at the beginning;" that the water division of the national is to say beginning with the large projects and eventually getting to the smaller streams. For instance, any movement for the improvement of the Wabash river or the White River in Indiana would hardly receive the approval of the national commission or of congress in ad-

LIBERTY H. BAILEY, FARMERS' COMMISSION CHAIRMAN

President Roosevelt recently said that he would rather go down in history as having started a movement to benefit the farmer than anything else he has accomplished.

While the commission appointed last summer with Liberty Hall Bailey, director of the New York State Agricultural college at Cornell university as chairman, has not as yet had time to accomplish much, it is busily engaged getting its bearings. Over half a million circular letters have already been sent throughout the country. They have been addressed to farmers, railway men, country ministers, country doctors, teachers and others who are interested in country life. Most of the names have been taken from the lists of agricultural colleges, state and national experiment stations, agricultural societies and granges, country papers and farmers' directories.

The present object is to study the problem in the broadest possible way, and then suggest practical means for bettering the conditions on the farm in order to make it more desirable for the bright, ambitious young man.

vance of the improvement of the Ohio river—the providing of a nine foot channel for that stream. Just now the lakes-to-the-gulf canal, connecting Lake Michigan with the Mississippi river has the call. It is safe to say that it will be the first great project undertaken either by the federal government, by the states directly interested or through co-operation between the federal government and those states. President elect Taft is committed to the support of this project. Possibly the improvement of the Ohio would follow next and then would come the improvement of the tributaries of this stream. Such projects as the canal connecting Lake Erie with Lake Michigan by a canal crossing northern Indiana would come up for consideration in due time.

is the prospect that the whole movement for the conservation of the country's resources promises to offer something tangible shortly. It is the one great governmental movement that is not in politics. Both the old political parties were committed to it in the last campaign, and this means that when congress takes up the question politics will be eliminated. The general movement is not of the kind that can result in the hasty consummation of great things either by the federal government or by the states. Possibly a great deal can be done within a reasonable time in the way of conserving the forests and the minerals (indeed, much is already being done along this line), but the work of improving the inland waterways of the country—the work of converting them into common carriers—is the task of a generation. If the conferences and conventions that are to be held here next month do nothing more than offer some tangible suggestions for starting the great work they will have accomplished much.

VIGILANTES AFTER HUNTERS.

LIMA, Ohio, Nov. 21. — Fired by the guns of hunters, several acres of Allen county forests were destroyed. The farmers fought the flames and organized a vigilance committee to put officers in patrol of a wide area with orders to arrest or warn hunters against trespass.

If there is quite a perceptible bulge of the eyebrows, combined with a high forehead, the sign is of a calm, cool, deliberate thinker.

SERMONS ON HEALTH AND HAPPINESS AT THE CHRIST CHURCH

A course of sermons on health and happiness will be given at Christ church during the next few weeks. The preacher will endeavor to show in a practical way that health and happiness does not depend on circumstances or environment as much as what the individual is making of himself by thought and will; in other words that a Christian man has not only a most wonderful power to direct his ultimate destiny, but in the light of higher knowledge of higher knowledge of himself, he can have a most profound influence over the state and condition of his body and mind in this present life.

These sermons will treat of psychic and motor regeneration and the general principles of psychotherapy. Such healing ministrations and habits of control as are included in the Emmanuel and other popular movements in the directions of health or happiness will be explained.

The first sermon will be on next Sunday morning at 10:45 and the second on Sunday evening, Nov. 29th. The dates of other sermons in the course will be announced later.

SOCIETY

Principal among the social events of the week was the large private dancing party given by E. M. Wing, E. J. Evans and D. G. MacMillan. Mrs. Andrew Boyd and Miss Isabelle Boyd entertained at a luncheon and bridge Tuesday. Mrs. Louis Pamperin and Miss Anna Pamperin gave a large and handsome 5 o'clock tea. Mrs. J. A. Thwing also entertained at a large tea. There were also the usual number of coffees, dinners and clubs. The flower show, under the auspices of the ladies of Christ church, was a feature of the week and was a pleasant and successful affair both socially and financially. Next week being Thanksgiving week many of the local clubs and church societies will be postponed till the week following. The annual Hirshheimer company plow ball will be given upon Thanksgiving eve at the Hirshheimer hall. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirshheimer will entertain at a dancing party at the same place.

A BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT AT GERMANIA HALL

One of the handsomest, if not the handsomest, and largest private dancing parties was given Thursday evening at Germania hall by Messrs. and Mesdames E. M. Wing, E. J. Evans and D. G. MacMillan. The youth, beauty and chivalry with a sprinkling of older people were out in full force. The hall never looked more attractive, the decorations being especially appropriate and harmonizing with and showing off to good advantage the handsome toilets. The stage was banked with a profusion of pink and white chrysanthemums, making a fine showing with their setting of stately palms and graceful ferns. The side lights around the balcony were covered with dainty pink shades subduing the glare of the electric lights. Festoons of smilax were draped from shade to shade. Great white globes with delicate traceries of smilax were suspended from the ceiling while from the center was hung a large basket filled with pink and white flowers. At the entrance stood two tall vases filled with great pink and white chrysanthemums. Easy couches and handsome oriental rugs arranged in the various boxes made a comfortable and luxurious resting place between dances. Refreshments were served from a small room on the same floor. The lights in this room were covered with tulip shaped globes. Mrs. R. B. Gelatt, Mrs. Van Steenwyk, Mrs. W. R. Finch, Mrs. J. H. McConnell, Mrs. F. C. Suiter and Mrs. J. E. Wheeler alternated in serving salad and pouring coffee. The toilets were exceptionally handsome, many of the beautiful creations being made expressly for this occasion. Mrs. Wing's gown was pink chiton voile with trimmings of pompadour silk. Mrs. Evans wore silver dotted white chiffon over pink taffeta, with bands of silver trimming. Mrs. MacMillan's gown was old rose chiffon satin with transparent yoke and sleeves. Mrs. James Morris of Minneapolis wore an imported gown of white crepe with point lace. Miss O'Neil of Rock Island, a cousin of Mrs. Evans, wore a canary colored pompadour silk with gold trimming.

The verdict of all present was that it was one of the prettiest and most delightful affairs ever given here. Certainly no pains or expense was spared to make it pleasant in every detail.

Kreutz's orchestra of fifteen pieces furnished the music which was delightful.

NECKTIE AND APRON SOCIAL GIVEN LAST EVENING

The necktie and apron social which was given last evening by the ladies of the West Avenue M. E. church, was a great success. The ladies each brought a basket lunch, together with a necktie that matched the apron which she wore. The neckties were sold to the gentlemen, who had great sport finding the lady whose apron matched the tie which they had, that lady becoming their partner for supper. The evening was spent in games and an informal program was rendered. Everyone present reported a most enjoyable evening.

ENTERTAINS AT CARDS

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Albert Smith, 507 North Thirteenth street, entertained at cards. Those present were: Mesdames F. L. Chamberlain, W. D. Noble, E. H. Hoffman, Henry Trepte, J. E. Gelwitz, Dr. J. Schleiter, Geo. Hauser, John Williams, Miss Emma Dummer, Miss Clara Johnson, Mrs. Geo. Fries, Mrs. Fred Frankenstein.

A most delightful afternoon was spent. An elaborate spread was served.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Elsie Beyers was pleasantly surprised at her home, 411 Jackson street, Tuesday evening by a number of her friends, who came attired in hard time costumes. The evening was spent in playing various games and in music. All reported a fine time. Those present were: Miss Anna Schoenfeld, Gusta Dobbe, Minnie Dobbe, Edna Stoholm, Ella Picha, Emma Siebrecht, Frances Bauch, Ella Miller, Dora Ledger, Selma Olsen, Margaret Tehmer, Lena Christensen, Clara Anderson and Lucie Olsen.

DINNERS

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hixon entertained at a handsome dinner last evening. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames L. C. Coiman, George Heath, Henry Gund and Alfred James.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Edwards will give a family dinner this evening. The guests will be the families of Messrs. and Mesdames W. R. Montague, E. O. Edwards and J. E. Wheeler.

Judge and Mrs. John Brindley entertained at a dinner last evening.

LAX DEPARTMENT IS WELL EQUIPPED

When the fire department receives the new $1,700 chemical wagon the department will be one of the best equipped in the state. The new chemical wagon, which will be purchased soon, will be one of the latest makes and will contain a 35 gallon chemical tank to which 200 feet of hose will be attached so that the men can take it anywhere in a burning building. This advantage is evident when one considers at the present that the chemical liquid comes in 5 gallon tanks that have to be carried into the burning building before any very effective service can be rendered.

The chemical wagon will carry the hose now carried by the hose wagon. Besides this there will be 2 ladders, an extension and a roof ladder, which can be used in case of small fire, where the big hook and ladder truck is unnecessary. This will mean a great saving of time and labor for in a great many small fires out in the residence district the big truck is seldom needed if a small ladder could be obtained. The chemical and hose wagon takes the place of a whole department, excepting the steamer.

One might think then that the big automatic extension ladder is of little use but in case of a big fire it is the greatest thing ever devised for scaling high buildings. The other morning it was raised to the top of the Hotel Stoddard in 45 seconds which is fast enough for any fire.

The present hose cart will be transferred to station No. 4, where it is badly needed.

There is a good thing about having been in the grocery business. After retiring a man knows how to select a good chicken.

with covers for twelve. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames George Gordon, F. H. Scofield, A. S. Farnam, W. F. Wolfe and C. S. Van Anken.

CLUBS

The Greek history class met this week with Mrs. I. M. Berger.

Mrs. L. A. Nelson entertained the Tuesday Afternoon Five Hundred club.

Mrs. Frank Cook entertained a Tuesday Afternoon Five Hundred club. The prizes were taken by Mrs. John Palmer and Mrs. Sorrensen. The next meeting will be with Mrs. S. B. Ostman.

The Ladies' Aid society of the English Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. H. Fischee will serve.

About one hundred and fifty attended the social given by Company 5, E. L. C. G. of which Miss Minnie Haerter is the captain. The social was held in the parlors of the English Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon.

The Woman's Central C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. M. N. Bevier, 523 West avenue south, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Moore of Elkader, Ia., is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. A. Oakes, 1314 Jackson street.

Mrs. J. J. Poehling has just returned from a two months' visit with her friends and relatives in Nashville, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala.

WAS DELIRIOUS WITH ECZEMA

On Chest, Back, and Head—Pain, Itch, and Tingling Were Excruciating—Nerves in Exhausted Condition—Sleep Badly Broken.

CURE BY CUTICURA SEEMED LIKE MAGIC

"Words cannot express the gratitude I feel for what Cuticura Remedies have done for my daughter, Adelaide. She is fifteen years of age, and had never had anything the matter with her skin until four months ago, when an eruption broke out on her chest. The first symptom was redness, and then followed thickening and blisters, which would break and crust. I took her to a doctor, who pronounced it to be eczema of a bad form. He treated her, but nothing being checked, the disease spread. It showed itself on her back, and then quickly spread upwards until the whole of her head was affected, and her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered was excruciating, and she was unable to sleep. Her life was almost unbearable. She became run down in health, and was very feverish, languid, and nervous, and occasionally she was delirious. Her nerves were in such a low state that she could not bear to be left alone. In spite of the cold weather she would lie on having her bedroom window open, and would lean out on the window-sill. She did not have a single hour's sleep for many nights. The second doctor we tried afforded her just a little relief as the first, and really do not know what we should have done if we had not read how Cuticura cured a similar case. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, and before the ointment was three-quarters finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. Her hair is coming on nicely, and I will apply the Cuticura Ointment as I feel it increases the growth wonderfully. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, 1, Onger Street, Brentwood, Essex, England, Mar. 6, 1901.

ABOUT DEFECTS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

No sensible manager of any kind of public service has any desire to "duck complaints." In fact, the really far-sighted man welcomes useful criticisms and suggestions. The attitude of the Wisconsin Telephone Company in such matters is to analyze any kind of "trouble" that is brought to its attention and to promptly apply a remedy. Good telephone service is, in the eyes of the Wisconsin Company's management, the kind of service that best suits telephone users. While the work of an exchange may be excellent from an engineering point of view, it may seem faulty to the public in some respect. There is no way the company can detect many of these apparent defects unless it is told about them, and if they are real the company is anxious to prevent their recurrence. Apparent defects in service should be reported to the manager immediately when the occasion arises. The volume of traffic passing through an exchange hour by hour is so great that it is often hard to trace a particular call any length of time after it is made.

"MISS PETTICOATS."

Metropolitan audiences were lavish in their praise of the play "Miss Petticoats" when it was seen in the large cities. This play made its debut at the Boston theatre, and reviewing the opening night at that house, the Boston Herald says: "The Boston theatre, with 'Miss Petticoats,' was one of the centers of local interest in matters dramatic last evening, when a large and enthusiastic audience paid its respects in general to this literary production. The play scored a success, and applause, spontaneous and hearty, followed every important act, and burst forth into an ovation at the close of the fourth act." "Miss Petticoats" with Miss Florence Farr in the title role, comes to the La Crosse theatre on Nov. 29, matinee and night.

SOUTHERN LIFE IS PICTURED

W. H. HART IN TITLE ROLE

Play is True to Life in the South in Every Detail and the Entire Caste is Strong.

Entire Company is Strong and the Settings and Scenic Effects are Better Than Ever

Lottie Blair Parker, author of "Way Down East" and "Under Southern Skies" has a happy faculty in character drawing that is possessed by few dramatic writers of the present day. Especially is this true of her beautiful play of the south, "Under Southern Skies," that will be presented here at the La Crosse theatre, Sunday, Nov. 22. The fineness of her characterizations in minuteness and fidelity to detail, will be easily recognizable to any one at all familiar with plantation life in the south. The hot headed fire eating colonel whose dignity is always being ruffled and who considers it necessary to arrange a duel each time he thinks his "honour" has been assailed; then there is the quiet, chivalrous type of gentleman, who in his courtly grace reminds us of the word pictures of the southern cavaliers who were famous a

"The Virginian," Owen Wister and Kirke La Shelle's dramatization of Mr. Wister's romance of Wyoming life, with a thoroughly competent company assisted by a wealth of scenery, will be presented at the La Crosse theatre Friday, Nov. 27. "The Virginian" is the best drama of western life ever written. It holds the attention of the audience closely, its leading characters winning sympathy, laughter or hatred as the intent may be and all being up to the pretense. The cowboys and the women of the west are all they are pictured in the book—live people, rough but sterling. The atmosphere is the rolling range, the cattle grazing and stampeding, the blue sky undimmed by a single chimney, the rocky pass, the camp fire and the poker game on the grass grown stump. Here is a relief from the restraint of crowded dwellings, from the stiff conventions of street and office, from the depression of club and drawing room. "The Virginian" leads us out of the prison of city life into the open country as God made it, and where man practices just enough devilry to satisfy the rash instinct in us all. Mr. Wister has given his cowboy a delightful character. He is a man, a type of the frontier, and although all that he does may not be in accordance with the ideals of those living in civilization, still he has ideals far above those of the men with whom he is cast, and he lives up to them, a fine specimen of virile and honest manhood, a man brave morally and physically. He is not spotless, nor does he pretend to be, he has gambled and has lived the life of the west, but his heart is sound and his lapses have not been those of a man of depraved nature, but rather of a strong nature seeking diversion from the monotony of life. He falls in love with Molly Wood, a descendant of the Puritans of New England, who comes out to Wyoming to teach school and though she resists the love she feels for a man so utterly apart from all her associations and traditions, she in the end succumbs to his determined wooing. Strong as is his love, it cannot sway his conviction of what is right and just. He rounds up and lynches the cattle thieves when ordered to by his employer in spite of the horror of his sweetheart. Again, when on the verge of their marriage, Trampas places him in the position where he must play the coward, as every man in the west understands it, or kill the villain. He plays the man's part even though his sweetheart tells him that it means the end. He kills his man, but it is characteristic of the Virginian that Trampas shoots first. A large element of the theatre going public are interested in villains, and the character of Trampas is the best ever written; a villain, a man without a redeeming trait, a moral degenerate, a scoundrel without one good impulse; he is just mean enough to arouse the hatred of the audience and keep up the excitement from the start to the finish of the play. Forget your trials and troubles, and go and spend an evening with "The Virginian." It is a play you can see again and again and still enjoy every moment of it. Under the excellent management of the Kirke La Shelle company, we will see a cast of players that will portray each character true to life, among the members being W. S. Hart and Frank Campeau. As the Virginian, Mr. Hart will be a success. He has achieved many notable triumphs in the past, among which are his Messala of "Ben Hur" and his recent great success as Cash Hawkins in "The Squaw Man." Frank Campeau, with picturesque slouch, will again be seen in his original part of Trampas. Many of the Manhattan theatre, New York, cast are with the company and a good performance is certain.

THE AMATEURS AT THE BIJOU

The Bijou theatre was literally packed to the doors to witness the double bill last night. Of the four amateurs booked for try-outs only three made their appearance, the local Sandow evidently having suffered an acute attack of "cold feet."

Ray Harris, cartoonist, opened the bill of extras. Mr. Harris was very good in his free-hand drawing of well known figures and he handled his subjects with due familiarity. Had he used full size newspaper print and heavier charcoal crayon his number would have been a genuine success. As it was he was very well received.

Harris & McKinney, the burnt cork newsboy artists, gave what purported to be a study in black. It was a study to find out where the fun was. They went through their stunt to the accompaniment of stage thunder, blinking yellow spotlights and an improvised snow scene. The flakes appeared like leaves torn from Salzer's seed catalogue, which Prize had forgotten to cut to the regulation size. The audience granted its disapproval and they were soon haled in.

After two years' retirement Madame Violet, the celebrated vocalist, again made her bow across the footlights in a pot-pourri of coloratura renditions selected ad libitum. Her appearance was the signal for an ovation which rose to the magnitude of a riot of applause at the closing of her first song. No artist appearing at the Bijou ever made such a hit. It must be gratifying to the diva to know that she has lost none of her popularity and the reception tendered her last night would have satisfied the most avid appetite for applause. She responded to persistent encores with a beautiful little aria on a French theme that simply drove the audience wild. The smart frock worn by the madame added not a little to the attention she received. Manager Koppelberger is to be congratulated in having been able to secure the services of the well known artist for the delectation of vaudevillians.

Dan Robby's expansive countenance was seen in the glare of the Bijou lobby last night. Mr. Robby is one of the most popular black face comedians in the business and will open at the Bijou Dec. 14th for a week's engagement. Dan's home is at West Salem.

The Hanahan Trio, Gingers from Jamaica, are laying off here for a few days after having filled a pleasant engagement in Minnesota and North Dakota. They open up on the Inter-State Circuit next week with other big time to follow.

TO DECIDE ABOUT MOON.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The professors of astronomy at the University of Chicago will be witnesses in the case of Christian Rudovitz, whom the Russian government is endeavoring to take back for trial on the charge of murder. It is alleged here that this is an attempt of the Russian government to evade extradition treaty, and take him back on the charge of murder, but really to try him for being a revolutionist. His friends question the statement that he was recognized in the murder gang in bright moonlight. They declared there was no moonlight the night the murder is said to have occurred. The professors will be asked to settle this point. The case is before United States Commissioner Foote.

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine, 25c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

OFFICERS HOPE FOR GREATER LENIENCY

(J. C. Welliver.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18. — Every department in the government is wondering what sort of a president Mr. Taft will make in his attitude to that particular department. This is especially the case in the war department. Army officers have not liked some of Roosevelt's methods and they are anxious to know whether his successor will be an improvement.

Particularly is the army concerned over the question whether Taft is going to follow the Roosevelt plan of promotion by selection or by seniority. Not in many years has there been such a shaking up of the traditional order of things in the military end of the government as President Roosevelt gave it in his successive appointments by selection. For the administration to pick out a major and honor him with a star

Mr. Clint G. Ford who has been identified with the very foremost dramatic attractions, including Gillet's "Secret Service Co.," "David Harum," "The Clansman," etc., has this to say of Newbro's Herpicide:

"For years I was annoyed with dandruff and itching of the scalp, all due to my twenty years of theatrical life with its incumbent 'make-up' and wig wearing. At times the itching of the scalp was intense. All remedies failed me until I tried Herpicide, and I soon found that it was giving wonderful results. The itching and also the dandruff entirely ceased and my hair resumed its natural life and vigor.

There is no question in my mind about the reality of the dandruff germ, and I unhesitatingly recommend Herpicide to my friends in the profession."

(Signed) CLINT G. FORD.

THEATRICAL FOLK

Use and Recommend

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Extravagant claims for toilet remedies do not influence theatrical people, because long experience enables them to discriminate intelligently. They demand merit and will rarely use a preparation that is not actually worth as much or more than it costs in dollars and cents.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and by actual test does more good than all other hair remedies combined. This accounts for its popularity in theatrical circles.

"Queen Roselle" writes of Newbro's Herpicide

"I take pleasure in announcing the very satisfactory results I have had from the use of Newbro's Herpicide. My hair was falling out so rapidly that I was afraid I would lose it all. A friend advised Herpicide, and after using it faithfully my hair stopped falling out, the dandruff disappeared and my hair is now very soft and glossy.

I would like to see every lady of the profession try Herpicide, for I am confident that they would be delighted with it."

(Signed) QUEEN ROSELLE.

The Pianola Piano Player

The Pianola is the only Piano Player Universally Recognized — There is hardly a musician of note in the world today who has not expressed a favorable opinion of the Pianola. Many of them, like Grieg or Paderewski, have grown most enthusiastic over it.

Of equal significance is the fact that these great musicians, while endorsing the Pianola, have been careful to add that other instruments lacking the Pianola's capacity for artistic expression do not meet with their approval at all.

If the Pianola had not possessed such wonderful responsiveness and valuable aids for bringing out the performer's individuality, it is safe to say that the whole subject of Piano-players will still be treated with indifference by the musical world.

Stomach Gases and Torpid Livers

Give Way Before the Peculiar Purifying Power of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges

A Trial Package Sent Free.

The foul gases of the stomach and the torpid action of the liver are easy victims for charcoal to overcome.

This great natural cleaner and absorbent will most certainly be relieved by a system afflicted with gaseous or sluggish tendencies.

Charcoal has long been known as a great absorbent of gas. A painful of charcoal will positively purify a room filled with foul odors and decay. Its absorbing ratio is one hundred times greater than its own volume.

The ancients gave charcoal for many human ills successfully. The North American Indians used it for snake bite, poison from eating wild herbs and cured what they called "stomach bad medicine" with it.

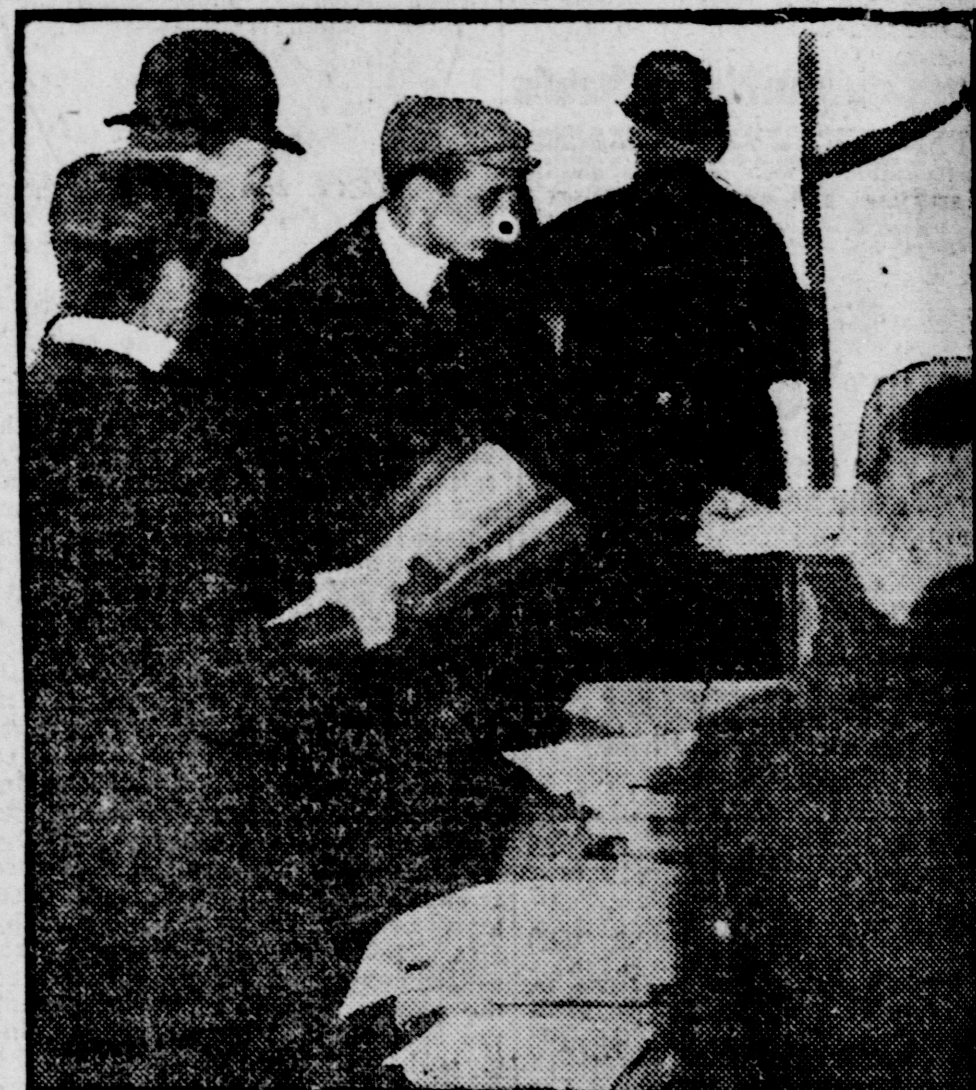

Willow charcoal seems to be the best product for human use, and no doubt the peculiar curative property of the willow is represented in a chemical quality in its charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are pure willow and sweet honey blended by tremendous power and compression into a very palatable lozenge. Two or three lozenges eaten after meals will prevent the process of digestion from producing noxious gases. They will vivify a lazy liver and aid every organ which is most likely to be overcome through its contact with impurities.

They cleanse the stomach and intestines, bring purity and sweetness out of fermentation and decay and aid digestion by allaying gas. They will aid you and your stomach. The beneficial effects are made evident after each meal when you use charcoal as Stuart prepares it. To allay gas at night they are excellent and one arises in the morning without that terrible nauseating bad breath which destroys appetite and renders one miserable.

All druggists sell Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price twenty-five cents or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Help Wanted—Male

WANTED—Every young man should find out if there is work in the Navy he enjoys doing. If he is industrious and efficient, promotion will follow with increased pay. Navy life is interesting. The vessels of the fleet furnish a great variety of employment. The incentive to get ahead, to become smart, quick and practical, is attracting thousands of young men to the service. The opportunity to master a trade appeals to all ambitious young men. The chance to see something of the world and at the same time to save money, and not come to the average young man in civil life. When a man is up to the Navy standard of efficiency he can hold his own in his line outside the Navy. The Navy needs mechanics as well as seamen; electricians, machinists, firemen, carpenters, stenographers, bookkeepers, cooks, bakers, waiters, musicians, and men for the Hospital Corps. The government will train you at its own expense in one of its technical classes. Your pay begins the day you enter. The work is interesting to prepare you in a short time for transfer to sea duty. The highest way to find out about pay, chances to save, and the requirements for enlistment, is to go to the Navy Recruiting Station at Post Office Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. If living at a distance, write the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

The club intends to give a series of dances the coming winter and extends a cordial invitation to the dancing public.

ENGRAVING PLANT IN FREDERICK BLDG

In the establishment of a new plant in this city by Axel and Earl Olson, La Crosse is promised a newly equipped and up to date engraving establishment, prepared to compete successfully against the largest plants in the country.

Both the Olsons, brothers, are practical engraving men, having secured their knowledge of the business through many years in the service of the great Mahz Engraving company of Chicago, recognized to be one of the half dozen finest engraving houses in the world.

They have leased the entire second floor of the big stone building, 100-102 South Front street, which they will occupy in company with the Wisconsin Trade Journal, which has its offices with the installation of the finest engraving machinery money can buy, and hopes soon to be monopolizing the trade of this entire section to the exclusion of outside houses.

George B. Frederick, who for more than a year has been associated with The Tribune as advertising manager, has severed his connections with this paper, and will devote his entire time and energy to the prosecution of the affairs of his publication, the Wisconsin Trade Journal, for the management of which he is admirably equipped through long experience as an employee of the Dry-goods Reporter, one of the leading trade papers of the country.

DUNCAN HAS NOT APPOINTED DEPUTY

"I have made absolutely no appointments," said Sheriff-elect William Duncan today, "and will make no announcements for some time."

COUNCIL IN FAVOR OF PARK SYSTEM

BUDGET WITH ONE MILL TAX FOR PARKS PASSED

NORTH SIDE WANTS $75,000

Alderman Grover Reads Petition Asking That the City Be Bonded for That Amount

That the park was has struck the city was made evident when Alderman Grover presented a petition signed by a number of North Side residents asking that the city be bonded for $75,000 for the purpose of purchasing the site for a park on the North Side. The petition was referred to the committee on parks.

A recess of 5 minutes was taken for the purpose of allowing the finance and bridge committees to consider the expenditure of not more than $1,200 for the repair of the piers on the Mississippi river wagon bridge. This expenditure was authorized.

The board of public works was also authorized to draw up contracts with the Nord Stern, Vlastene and Volksfreund to publish the proceedings of the council in the foreign languages at a cost not to exceed $75 a year each.

The second adjourned meeting of the council was held last evening for the purpose of passing upon the comptrollers' budget with its provision of a 1 mill tax for the public park system of the city. It is expected that there would be some opposition to the appropriation of $20,256 for city parks when the most that was spent before was $3,500, but when the vote was taken there was not one dissenter.

Schools Get $11,000 More.

Besides the $80,000 mentioned in the budget the city schools get in the neighborhood of $24,000 school tax that is refunded by the county and about $25,000 from the state, making a total of about $49,000 besides the amount given by the city. This is $11,000 more than the allotment last year. The amount was recognized as inadequate, but under present conditions other funds had to be cut down to give the extra money to the schools, and it is hoped that the amount can be materially increased next year.

FREIGHT WRECK IS FATAL TO THREE

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 21.—Three men were killed and one badly injured in the collision of a freight and a train on the Ann Arbor railroad near Lakeland, Mich., today. The dead: Andrew Grogan, fireman, Toledo; William Ryan, engineer, Owosso, Mich.; fireman of the south bound train, name unknown. The injured: Engineer M. Draper, of the south bound train. The collision is said to have been due to one of the trains running past a signal, following a change of orders. Both trains were badly piled up.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The more important railroad issues were under pressure all through the morning. Union Pacific at the end of the first hour showed a decline of one point and the same loss was sustained by Southern Pacific, while Reading and St. Paul made fractional declines. Tennessee copper, after a fractional advance to 52, dropped to 43 1/2 but recovered part of the loss. A number of specialties, including Virginia Chemical and Brunswick Land, were strong while the rest of the market was heavy. Government bonds unchanged, others irregular.

The general list through the last hour was heavy, with the Harriman stocks leading in the downward movement. At the close the tone was weak with a majority of issues at the lowest points touched since the reaction started. Government bonds unchanged, others irregular.

Poultry, Dairy, Etc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Butter, firm.

Eggs, nearby white fancy, 48 to 50c; nearby mixed fancy, 38 to 40c. Cheese, full creams, specials, 14 to 15 1/2 c; skim specials, 11c. Poultry unchanged.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21.—Cattle, 500; steady; steers, $4.75 to $7.50; stockers, $2.75 to $4.75.

Hogs, 8,000; strong; bulk, $5.50 to $5.85; pigs, $4.25 to $5.25. Sheep, none; steady; Muttons, $4 to $4.65; lambs, $4.50 to $6.15.

Chicago Livestock

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Cattle, 300; steady.

Hogs, 20,000; 5c higher; light, $5.10 to $5.80; heavy, $5.65 to 6.15; pigs, $2.75 to $5.10.

Sheep, 2,000; steady.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED; 1 VOTE AGAINST HIM

DENVER, Nov. 21.—Gompers was elected president of the American Federation today without contest. The opposition to Gompers, which was mainly from the socialist and Keefe factions, was withdrawn early in the week. Gompers is pleased over the result, and expressed the belief that his election is an endorsement of his policies.

Badger Man Against Him.

Chas. Jeske, president of the Wisconsin State Federation, was the only man who voted against Gompers. James Duncan was re-elected first vice president.

IS GIVEN $25 FOR ALLOWING FUNERAL

Mrs. Ida R. Spicer was today allowed $25 against the estate of the late Mrs. Ragna Ring for expenses incurred in holding the funeral of Mrs. Ring at her house. The original claim was for $35 but after taking the testimony of various undertakers on what was a reasonable price for the holding of the funeral allowed but $25.

NEW CALL FOR PASTOR

JANESVILLE, Wis., Nov. 21.—The Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the First Congregational church, has received a call from the Laurel Hill Congregational church of Minneapolis. He has not decided whether he will accept. Within the last few years churches at Columbus, O., Omaha, Neb., Des Moines, Ia., and other cities have made ineffectual efforts to persuade him to leave the local field. In 1907 he was selected to occupy the Glasgow (Scotland) pulpit for four Sundays.

PAPER FAMINE NEAR

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 21.—Wisconsin paper manufacturers are united in the belief that the United States will soon face a paper famine unless weather conditions change. The conditions are aggravated, they say, by depletion of the water power of streams throughout the country. Most of the Wisconsin paper plants are running on half time.

LITHOGRAPHERS WANT MORE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—George Meyecord, of Chicago, representing the National Association of Lithographers, appeared before the ways and means committee today and asked that the rates on lithographic prints and labels be raised. He said that German competitors would otherwise get the market.

TRIAL HEAT KILLS TWO.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 21.—Mechanic Derosa was almost instantly killed and John Juhasz fatally injured when the S. P. O. car overturned as it was rounding the second turn on the auto race track early this afternoon in the practice for Thursday's races. The car was totally demolished.

Free! Free!

To the Sick and Ailing Everywhere

THE CURE FOR YOUR DISEASE
Delivered Free—Free for the Asking—Free to You.

To the sick—the suffering—to every man and woman a victim of organic disease—local trouble or broken general health—Dr. Kidd's offer of free treatment is given in the absolute faith and sincere belief that they can and will cure it and lift you up again to health and vigor. There is no reason why you should not get well if you will only bring your- self to take the free test treatment of these wonderful remedies, no matter what your doubts may be.

I want the Doubters
I want to give them the proof—the evidence and the glory of new life in their own bodies—and I want to pay the cost of this proof—all of it—to the very last cent—myself.

I have put my life into this work—I hold the record of thousands of cures—not "some better"—but thousands of desperate sufferers, hearty and strong and big and well; and their letters are in my hands to prove every word I say. Rheumatism, kidney trouble, all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, catarrh, diseases of the bladder and prostate gland, nervousness, all female troubles, weak lungs, asthma, bronchitis and chronic coughs, all skin diseases, scrofula, impure blood, partial paralysis, piles, heart disease, lumbago, anæmia, obesity, goitre, general debility are cured to remain and continue cured.

No matter how you are, no matter what your disease, I will have the remedies sent to you and given into your own hands free, paid for by me and delivered at my own cost.

These Remedies Will Cure

They have cured thousands of cases—nearly every disease—and they can cure and there is no reason why they should not cure you—make you well—and bring you back to health and the joy of living. Will you let me do this for you—will you let me prove it—brother and sister sufferers? Are you willing to trust a master physician who not only makes this offer, but publishes it and then sends the test and proof of his remedies without a penny of cost to any one except himself?

Send your name, your Post Office address and a description of your condition, and I will do my utmost to satisfy every doubt you have or can have that these remedies will save your life and make it all that nature can make it.

Let me make you well. Give me your name and tell me how you feel, and the proof treatment is yours, at my cost. No bills of any kind—no papers—nothing but my absolute good will and good faith. DR. JAMES W. KIDD, A-47 Kidd Building, Fort Wayne, Ind.

NOTE—We know personally Dr. Kidd and know that his methods and his offer are exactly as represented in every respect. Our readers should take advantage of Dr. Kidd's generous offer.

MUST ANSWER FOR DEATH OF HUNTER

ASHLAND MAN MUST STAND TRIAL FOR KILLING

THE DEATH LIST GROWING

Twenty-three Have Been Killed by Stray Bullets and Forty-four Injured

Dead 23
Injured 44

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 21.—Alfred Telford of Mellen was bound over to trial in $2,000 bonds on the charge of accidentally shooting and killing Frank Sawicki on Oct. 11. Sawicki was hunting and was shot through the body by some unknown man who, when he saw his victim wounded, fled and left him. Sawicki told his story when found hours afterwards, but died before identifying anyone. Telford was bound over on circumstantial evidence.

Ashland county officials are proceeding vigorously against careless hunters whose bullets injure or kill people. Telford was given a hearing in municipal court today and was bound over to the circuit court. Witnesses testified that Telford had been seen in the woods near the place where Sawicki was shot at about the time of the shooting.

Another Hunter Dead

GRAND RAPIDS, Wis., Nov. 21.—John Dawes, Pittsville, shot through the body by his brother who mistook him for a deer, has died. The bullet entered his back and penetrated the liver and lungs. The wounded man walked part of the way to meet the wagon sent to take him to the hospital.

EXAMINE POOLE FOR HIS SANITY

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 21.—The mental condition of Grant Poole, charged with killing Mrs. E. H. Orvis last May in the Methodist church at Oakfield, will be likely to be passed on before he is arraigned before a jury. The possibility of a conference with Judge Fowler was held this morning by District Attorney Hustling and Maurice McKenna, who appears in behalf of Poole. Mr. Hustling says, if the defense does not ask for an insanity commission, he will press the demand. This may mean that the jury will be sent home for perhaps a week until the commission deliberates upon Poole's mental status.

Mr. Hustling says he will insist upon the commission acting in advance of the regular murder trial.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

WAUKESHA.—Thirty years in the penitentiary at Waupun was the sentence meted out in municipal court by Judge Armin to John Smith, convicted of having assaulted Olga Grabow.

NEILSVILLE.—Robert Kuhn of Neilsville was arrested in Chicago on a federal charge of stealing a draft for $262 from a rural letter box.

MANITOWOC.—Between 200 and 300 pupils of the north side school were affected by the city health board's order barring them from the school unless vaccinated.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—John S. Sargent has been appointed rural carrier and Clarence Bacon substitute on Route 2, at Ellsworth.

JANESVILLE.—While being taken back to the Waukesha industrial school, Earl Wheelock, aged 13 years, escaped by jumping through the window while the train was going forty miles an hour.

WAUSAU.—Sig. Josephus Miguel y Nefredo, an emissary of the Italian government, is making an inspection of the Wausau tannery of the United States Leather company with a view to getting data on American methods.

FOND DU LAC.—Following close upon the action of the city council ordering the removal of all but two telephones in the city hall, and these two to be on a party line, the board of supervisors ordered the removal of half of the telephones in the county buildings. A raise in rates is responsible for the action.

MENOMONIE.—The Dunn County News has inaugurated a lyceum course. Among the attractions are Judge Ben B. Lindsay of juvenile court fame, Katherine Ridgeway, the Honolulu students and Opie Read.

NEENAH.—Search is being made by police for Miss Myrtle Burke, an Oconto girl, who disappeared from her home several days ago and is believed to have come to this city.

NEENAH.—Fred Meyer, a business man of Menasha, sustained serious injuries in a runaway, which may result fatally.

GUILTY OF LARCENY

GRAND FORKS, S. D., Nov. 21.—After being out for over seven hours the jury in the case of the state vs. Edward Hardy brought in a verdict of guilty of robbing Mrs. Edward Sanburn, who came here with her husband at the time of the merchants' carnival, of her watch and diamonds, the total value being $700. For some reason Mrs. Sanburn did not appear against Hardy and her present whereabouts are unknown. Her sworn testimony, taken at the preliminary hearing, was accepted as evidence.

WILL PRESERVE OUR NATURAL RESOURCES

STEPS TO BE TAKEN SOME TIME IN DECEMBER

GOV. PREPARING FOR SESSION

Too Busy to Attend the Meeting of Governor to Be Held in Washington

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Means for the preservation of the natural resources of Wisconsin will occupy the minds of the people of the state the first week in December. Gov. Davidson has just received an invitation to attend the second conference of governors to be held at Washington, Dec. 8.

"I will be unable to attend the conference this time," said Governor Davidson today. "I would like to go, but we have the work in Wisconsin well in shape. I must get ready for the session of the legislature and at the same time there will be held in Madison the second meeting of the Lake States Forestry meeting and also the meeting of the five commissioners of Wisconsin who have been investigating the subject of the preservation of the natural resources in Wisconsin."

Hold Two Days' Session.
The Lake States Forestry association was formed at Saginaw one year ago. This convention was called by representatives of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, but this year the states of Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and Ontario, Canada, have been invited to participate. The convention will probably bring about 25 foresters from these states to the meeting.

"This isn't to be a talk feast," said State Forester E. M. Griffith today. "We have got beyond that stage. We will meet to consider measures, which should be passed at the coming sessions of the legislature. This meeting has been called by State Forester Charles W. Garfield of Michigan."

Invitations Are Out.
The invitation issued today says, "that the unusual losses by forest fires during this year emphasize the importance of co-ordinate action in any enactment affecting the forests and their protection by all states represented in this conference and especially the lumbering states and provinces."

The meeting will be held probably at the capitol on December 9-10. It will be followed by a meeting of the Wisconsin commission interested in the preservation of the natural resources of this state. This commission is composed of President C. R. Van Hise, State Forester Griffith, Senator J. H. Stout, George A. Whiting, Neenah; Senator Bird of Wausau and William Irving of Chippewa Falls. The commission will hold a one day's session to consider legislation and will be joined in their efforts by five members of the Lumbermen's Association of Northern Wisconsin. The latter organization will be represented by J. T. Barber, Eau Claire; W. H. Bundy, Rice Lake; G. D. Jones, Wausau; George E. Foster, Mellen, and Guy Nash, Grand Rapids.

WOUNDED DEER FIGHTS HUNTERS
CHAMPION, Mich., Nov. 21.—A desperate combat with a 200 pound buck, and in which he came near being worsted, was the thrilling experience of Eugene Lally of Grand Rapids while on a hunting trip in Marquette county woods out from Champion. Lally shot at the deer three times, two of the bullets taking effect, and he believed he had mortally wounded it.

Just as he was lifting the head, the buck revived, leaped to his feet and made for the hunter. Lally's knife had been knocked from his grasp by the unexpected upward jerk of the antlers. Without hesitation, Lally forced his body between the antlers and grabbed the animal's forelegs, bringing the buck to his knees. In that position the combatants whipped

CASE FOR ROOSEVELT

BARABOO, Wis., Nov. 21.—Mrs. James Dowling has gone to Eau Claire to see her fifty-second grand-son, Paul Denver Dowling. Mrs. Dowling has not yet reached her sev-entienth year, but thinks she has done as much for the country, according to Rooseveltian ideas as the average citizen. She is the mother of eleven stalwart sons and daughters and in appearance is as youthful as a girl of 25 years.

PORCH CLIMBER ROBS THE HOUSE

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 21.—A porch climber secured booty valued at over $300 when he entered the residence of G. H. Curtis, the general manager of the Chicago-Kenosha Hosiery company, while the family was at dinner. Henry H. Curtis, tis, father of the owner, met the man on the stairway as he was leaving the house who thrust a revolver into Curtis' face covering him until he made his escape.

WOULD CLOSE SALOONS

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 21.—People in the village of Union Grove are on the verge of having another war over the liquor question. At the recent election the wets won by four votes.

Some days ago a fight took place in the saloon of Bert Welsh. Emil Nowak had his shoulder broken and others were bruised. A boy named Lyman Horton is said to have been under the influence of liquor. Mr. Welsh, arrested on charge of selling to a minor, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Now the dries declare they will close out all of the saloons.

FLEEING UTILITY, TAFT NO MAGNATE

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Chas. P. Taft will sever his connection with the public service corporations, in which the Taft and Sinton millions are invested. He resigned from the presidency of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company and from the directorship of the Cincinnati Traction company. This move is considered equivalent to a formal announcement of his candidacy for the senatorship. He wants his affairs to be in the best shape to handle the fight.

REGAINS LOST VOICE.

MOUNT VERNON, Iowa, Nov. 21.—Dr. J. G. Van Ness, who at an Iowa City hospital had a cancer removed, is recovering and to the surprise of the surgeons is regaining his speech. The cancer was on the vocal cords and the surgeons informed him before the operation that he would never be able to talk out loud again, but he is talking and his voice promises to be nearly as good as ever.

GETS $7,500 FOR HUSBAND

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Elizabeth Boucher, whose husband, David Boucher, was killed while at work in an ash pit in the Wisconsin Central yards at North Fond du Lac last June, was awarded $7,500 damages by a jury in circuit court.

LITTLE BOY DROWNS.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Nov. 21.—John Birt, 7 years old, while skating on Yellow river in the town of Sigel, broke through the ice and was drowned. A number of play-mates were near, but were unable to assist, as the ice was too dangerous to venture near the hole.
